488 Are Jailed

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — White-helmeted police, firing as they ran, stormed a men's dormitory at Texas Southern University today and halted student snipers who created a no-man's land on campus. A rookie patrolman was killed and two officers and a student wounded.

Police took 488 men students to jail and worked to discover which had fired the shot which killed Lewis R. Kuba, 25, who graduated from the police academy a month ago. Kuba was shot between the eyes in the first assault wave against the dormitory which sheltered the snipers' nest.

Kuba died about 7½ hours after he was shot.

Four hours and 3,000 police bullets after the first peppering of gunfire and the explosion of four crudely made fire bombs, officers secured the dormitory. They smashed down doors in their search for weapons and suspects, found one pistol, one shotgun and one rifle.

Mayor Louie Welch met this morning with police, the district attorney and officials of the predominantly Negro school, where the administration ordered classes as usual.

The incident began late Tuesday night when police entered the campus to watch students recruiting others for a candlelight demonstration at a city dump which Negroes living in the area want closed.

Patrolman Robert Blaylock, 25, was wounded in the thigh in the first bursts. One of the fire bombs hit a women's dormitory and burned out harmlessly.

Within 90 minutes Houston police had every man available on hand and more on the way from suburban forces. The little army reached 600.

Police sealed the campus and pulled their main force back to an intersection a block from the students' range of fire while F. D. Kirkpatrick, a leader of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee chapter on campus, sought to negotiate a truce.

The effort to start talks failed. Men from the dormitory began erecting a barricade of corrugated tubing, appropriated from a campus construction job. It blocked Wheeler Avenue, the major through-campus street.

When the students set fire to barrels of tar, Police Chief Herman Short, acting on Welch's instructions, shouted to his men to "let's get this damned mess cleaned up."

The first assault force numbered about 100 and started its action with a burst of shots into the air which echoed through the quiet neighborhood and brought wails and shouts from the women's dormitory.

Moving into darkness the police crept past the women's dorm and onto the terrace of the student union building, between the women's and men's housing units. It was there that a shot caught Kuba in the forehead.

A force of 30 Negro sheriff's deputies followed. Exchanges of fire continued until 3:05 a.m., when Short declared the situation under control.

By that time Patrolman Alan Dale Dugger, 32, had been wounded in the face and a student, Morris English, 22, shot in the back. Their conditions were not considered serious.

Police swarmed into the men's dormitory complex, flushing out students, most clad in pajamas or underwear.

Police shots had shattered almost every window along the north wall of the men's dormitory and the students were made to lie on the glass-strewn lawn, hands behind their heads, until buses and vans hauled them away.

Every jail cell in Houston was filled.

Until the battle today, Houston protests had remained free of violence. The arrests of 64 persons in demonstrations Tuesday at the dump and at a public junior high school had been the biggest action taken by authorities against protesters here.

In Beaver Voting

Corak And Ross Victors; Masters, Rowley Named

Beaver County Commissioners Eli Corak and James Ross won renomination in a seven-way contest in Tuesday's Democrat primary election and Commissioner Russell Wright along with George Pettibon won the Republican nominations, according to incomplete and unofficial returns.

Beaver County District Atty. Robert Masters of Midland and incumbent Judge James Rowley of Aliquippa were nominated as candidates for the judge post in November's general election.

In balloting in Midland, incumbent Democrat Councilmen and school directors were renominated, while Republicans —who had no filed candidates —selected a slate of write-in nominees for Council and the school board.

WITH 1,200 filed candidates in the county and hundreds of write-ins, the election tabulation was extremely slow, and by 2 a.m. only five of the 134 precincts had reported.

Late this morning, the closest race in the county election was that involving the Democrat contest for coroner, with Dr. Ralph Reviere leading Dr. Robert Camp by some 1,300 votes.

With 125 of the 134 precincts reported, Dr. Rivere of New Brighton had 14,798 votes to 13,486 for Dr. Camp of Aliquippa.

Ross led the Democrat slate for commissioner, which included Mayor Corak and Lester Trainer of Midland, Paul Jones of Baden, Vincent Santilli of Monaca, Samuel Neff of Beaver Falls and Samuel Piccinini of Rochester.

The vote, based on 125 precincts, was:

Ross	21,873
Santilli	2,436
Neff	2,837
Jones	3,513
Piccinini	1,374
Trainer	4,541
Corak	17,505

Masters's total vote was larger than the combined vote of the other three candidates on the Democrat slate — Judge Rowley, Atty. James Rieser of Beaver, Atty. Genevieve Settino of Ambridge. The incomplete totals are:

Masters	16,144
Rowley	7,471
Rieser	3,227
Settino	3,357

Atty. Clarence Neish of Aliquippa won the Democrat nomination for district attorney over

U.S. Planes Raid Missile Sites In DMZ

Marines Near Zone Fight To Root Out Reds In Tunnels

SAIGON (AP) — American warplanes raided two surface to air missile sites the North Vietnamese were setting up in the demilitarized zone Tuesday night as a force of 5,000 U.S. Marines just south of the zone fought to root North Vietnamese regulars out of a complex of tunnels.

The U.S. Command said the antiaircraft missile sites which Marine jets bombed were located almost exactly on the 17th Parallel dividing North and South Vietnam and about eight miles in from the coast.

There was no immediate report of damage, and a headquarters spokesman did not say whether any of the big Soviet built missiles were on the sites.

These were the first SAM sites reported inside the demilitarized zone. Newsmen last weekend saw a Skyhawk jet downed by one of the "flying telephone poles" in the area, but the missile was believed to have been launched from another site — which was subsequently raided — just north of the zone.

SAM sites along the 17th Parallel could menace the high-flying U.S. B52s which regularly raid areas of Quang Tri Province just below the demilitarized zone.

A military spokesman said intensified Communist mortar, artillery and rocket fire continued along the line today, punctuated by occasional sharp ground fighting.

The battle began when a Marine company supported by tanks ran into about 150 Communists in a complex of tunnels and bunkers about a mile from the Marine camp. More Marines were called up, and the Reds kept up a fighting retreat for four hours before breaking off.

To Revamp State's Constitution

Voters In Pennsylvania Approve Convention Plan

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Pennsylvanians voted Tuesday for a convention to revamp the state's antiquated 93-year-old constitution, a proposal that had failed six times since 1891.

And in Philadelphia's primary, Democrats revolted against the party leadership, renominating Mayor James H. J. Tate for a second four-year term by an overwhelming 2-to-1 majority.

The organization had dumped Tate on grounds he was a "sure loser," and endorsed former City Controller Alexander Hemphill, who was trounced 152,402 to 80,217. A third candidate, Lenerte Roberts, a Negro real estate broker, trailed with 5,593.

The convention, with delegates elected in November, will convene in the state's capitol at Harrisburg on Dec. 1. It will have three months to complete the job, but is limited by law from making any change that would allow a graduated income tax. It was this fear—and opponents hammered at this theme—that defeated the convention proposal previously.

The convention, plus eight immediate amendments to the constitution, were the only statewide issues on the primary ballot. Voters nominated mayors in 22 cities, plus candidates for judges, council and other local officers.

Most of the other parts of the constitution were amended Tuesday, with overwhelming voter approval of eight amendments that updated the Keystone State's basic charter.

They provide:

1. A provision banning discrimination or denial to any person of his civil rights.

2. The General Assembly shall run for two years, just like Congress, instead of on a year-to-year basis.

3. Streamline legislative machinery, updating duties and procedures.

4. Governors may succeed themselves (all except Shafer); also the auditor general and state treasurer.

5. Persons may vote in Pennsylvania after a 90-day residency, instead of one year.

6. Faster procedures to amend the constitution.

7. Deletion of outmoded regulations concerning railroads and canals.

8. A $500-million bond issue for land and water conservation.

Despite fair weather, less than half of the state's 4,223,612 eligible voters went to the polls.

Despite Chamber Request

Wellsville Council Votes To Go Along On Highway

Another lengthy discussion on the relocation of Route 7 through Wellsville was held when Council met Monday night, with the Chamber of Commerce supplying data and requesting a delay in any agreement with the state.

Council, however, approved a resolution to go along with state specifications on the new highway.

A report from the Chamber's committee on highways and transportation was presented by J. Frederick Russell. It stated the Wellsville chamber "regretted" that investigation on the new road had been prevented by "pressures urging approval of the present plan."

The report indicated there are 232 occupied residential properties which will be taken, 37 per cent of them between the city limits on Wells Ave. and 10th St., and 37 per cent in the section between 15th and 18th Sts.

The data sheet noted there are about 850 residents involved, or 12 per cent of the city's population. Of these, 350 are estimated to be children.

Continuing, the report stated there are eight commercial sites employing 50 and reflecting 4 per cent of the city's working force. The heaviest concentration, it continued, is from the city limits on Wells Ave. to 10th St., where 90 per cent of the total commercial involvement is located.

Breaking it down further, the Chamber's information indicated there ae 85 residential properties between 15th and 18th Sts. with a property value of $264,580, and a yearly production of $8,729 tax dollars. That figure was divided at $2,064 for the

London Sends Sharp Protest To Red China

HONG KONG (AP) — Anti-British rioters spread fire and destruction through the main business area of Hong Kong's Kowloon section today. New demonstrations were reported in Peking, and London sent a sharp official protest to Red China's government.

Outnumbered riot police fought running battles with at least three separate mobs that spilled out of Kowloon's Sanpokung industrial area, ripped by three days of violence last week, into the main Nathan Road business district across the harbor from Hong Kong Island.

The biggest mob, estimated by police at more than 3,000, smashed store and bank fronts, overturned and burned automobiles, and hurled rocks at police and spectators.

$160 Million Above Rhodes' Plan

Ohio Bill Proposes More State Funds For Schools

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A bill to boost state expenditures for public schools $200 million above what is being spent in the current biennium was up for introduction in the Ohio House today.

Rep. Walter L. White R-6 Allen said his measure would go $160 million beyond the $40 million increased proposed by Gov. James A. Rhodes in his two-year budget. Rhodes' proposal covered enrollment increases only.

White's bill would raise to $666 million the state's outlay for public schools in the two years starting July 1.

A bill that would bring more rodeos into Ohio over protests of the Humane Society and other groups meanwhile headed toward as uncertain fate in the House today.

Rep. Joseph Hiestand R-20 Highland and others sponsored the bill which would permit the use of so-called bucking straps on rodeo animals "so long as such straps are lined with a soft material and are free from any sharp or cutting object."

Only two years ago, the legislature outlawed all bucking straps. Supporters of the pending measure said the ban "severely handicapped" rodeos in Ohio because Brahma bulls and broncos "often fail to give a satisfactory bucking performance unless stimulated by the presence of a bucking strap."

Other business on tap today included expected House Finance Committee approval of the administration's $4.9 billion operating budget for the 1967-69 biennium.

The committee neared the end of deliberations Tuesday night with addition of an amendment which would require the state to pay for maintenance of freeways inside cities.

During busy floor sessions Tuesday, the Senate gave unanimous approval to a pair of bills designed to attract and aid industries and the House voted down a resolution asking Congress to increase income tax exemptions from $600 to $1,200 for each dependent.

Opponents called the resolution "an exercise in futility" and criticized it for not proposing means to compensate for anticipated federal revenue loss of $15-$16 billion a year.

Sen. Walter Powell R-4 Butler won unanimous approval of an administration bill which would permit the state counties and municipalities to issue interest-free revenue bonds for industrial purposes.

Ohio, Pennsylvania Truck Dispute Settled

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe announced settlement Wednesday of an Ohio-Pennsylvania truck tax dispute.

Under an agreement between the two states, Saxbe said Ohio truckers will pay Pennsylvania's "road tax" on fuel used by trucks in that state and Pennsylvania truckers will pay Ohio's "axle-mile" tax on big rigs.

"On the basis of this commitment showing Pennsylvania's intentions, we will put in abeyance any idea of cancelling reciprocity with Pennsylvania," Saxbe said.

Bush Victory Stands Up In Recount Here

William Bush, victor in the solicitor's race on the Republican primary ticket at Wellsville, gained eight more votes in a recount held Tuesday night by the Columbiana County Board of Elections.

The recount was asked by Solicitor Delmar T. O'Hara. Bush, an attorney, won on a write-in vote.

The board officially set Bush's total at 252 following the recount. O'Hara lost two votes as the result of the tabulation, with his official tally now 212.

The board refunded O'Hara $55, charging him only $5 per precinct for the recount. Under law he had to post $10 for each of the 11 precincts.

The recount started at 7 and ended shortly before 9. Bush represented himself, while O'Hara was represented by his law partner, William Telzrow.

Board members present were Don Gosney of Columbiana, Charles Pike of Lisbon and G. William Brokaw of East Liverpool. Carl Stacey, a fourth member, was unable to attend.

Miss Rebecca Resnick, board clerk, was in charge.

Voters In Pennsylvania Approve Convention Plan

Despite Chamber Request

Wellsville Council Votes To Go Along On Highway

Another lengthy discussion on the relocation of Route 7 through Wellsville was held when Council met Monday night, with the Chamber of Commerce supplying data and requesting a delay in any agreement with the state.

Council, however, approved a resolution to go along with state specifications on the new highway.

A report from the Chamber's committee on highways and transportation was presented by J. Frederick Russell. It stated the Wellsville chamber "regretted" that investigation on the new road had been prevented by "pressures urging approval of the present plan."

The report indicated there are 232 occupied residential properties which will be taken, 37 per cent of them between the city limits on Wells Ave. and 10th St., and 37 per cent in the section between 15th and 18th Sts.

The data sheet noted there are about 850 residents involved, or 12 per cent of the city's population. Of these, 350 are estimated to be children.

London Sends Sharp Protest To Red China

HONG KONG (AP) — Anti-British rioters spread fire and destruction through the main business area of Hong Kong's Kowloon section today. New demonstrations were reported in Peking, and London sent a sharp official protest to Red China's government.

Outnumbered riot police fought running battles with at least three separate mobs that spilled out of Kowloon's Sanpokung industrial area, ripped by three days of violence last week, into the main Nathan Road business district across the harbor from Hong Kong Island.

The biggest mob, estimated by police at more than 3,000, smashed store and bank fronts, overturned and burned automobiles, and hurled rocks at police and spectators.

A Beloit area man, who would have observed his 78th birthday today, died early this morning in Alliance City Hospital of injuries received in an accident on Township Road 804 in Columbiana County, two miles east of the Stark County line about 4:30 p.m. Monday.

William C. Kutz was the driver of a car traveling west that collided with another auto operated by Edward C. Cline, 18, of Salem R.D. 1, about 15 feet west of a hill crest.

A passenger in Kutz' car, D. Wayne Vizizzuso, 19, of Homeworth R.D. 1, is in "fairly good" condition at the hospital with neck injuries.

Kutz expired at 6:05 a.m. today. He had suffered a fractured leg and lacerated eyebrow.

The death marked Columbiana County's 10th of 1967, compared to ten this time last year.

An East Palestine man was severely injured after an accident about 11:35 p. m. Tuesday, three miles east of Route 7 on State Route 14.

In "critical" condition at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, Youngstown, is Dennis C. Torrance, 23, of 238 Meadow Ln., East Palestine, a passenger in a car driven by Samuel J. Northon, 23, 257½ E. $160 Million Above Rhodes' Plan

Ohio Bill Proposes More State Funds For Schools

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A bill to boost state expenditures for public schools $200 million above what is being spent in the current biennium was up for introduction in the Ohio House today.

Rep. Walter L. White R-6 Allen said his measure would go $160 million beyond the $40 million increased proposed by Gov. James A. Rhodes in his two-year budget. Rhodes' proposal covered enrollment increases only.

White's bill would raise to $866 million the state's outlay for public schools in the two years starting July 1.

A bill that would bring more rodeos into Ohio over protests of the Humane Society and other groups meanwhile headed toward as uncertain fate in the House today.

Rep. Joseph Hiestand R-20 Highland and others sponsored the bill which would permit the use of so-called bucking straps on rodeo animals "so long as such straps are lined with a soft material and are free from any sharp or cutting object."

Only two years ago, the legislature outlawed all bucking straps. Supporters of the pending measure said the ban "severely handicapped" rodeos in Ohio because Brahma bulls and broncos "often fail to give a satisfactory bucking performance unless stimulated by the presence of a bucking strap."

Other business on tap today included expected House Finance Committee approval of the administration's $4.9 billion operating budget for the 1967-69 biennium.

The committee neared the end of deliberations Tuesday night with addition of an amendment which would require the state to pay for maintenance of freeways inside cities.

During busy floor sessions Tuesday, the Senate gave unanimous approval to a pair of bills designed to attract and aid industries and the House voted down a resolution asking Congress to increase income tax exemptions from $600 to $1,200 for each dependent.

Opponents called the resolution "an exercise in futility" and criticized it for not proposing means to compensate for anticipated federal revenue loss of $15-$16 billion a year.

Sen. Walter Powell R-4 Butler won unanimous approval of an administration bill which would permit the state counties and municipalities to issue interest-free revenue bonds for industrial purposes.

Ohio, Pennsylvania Truck Dispute Settled

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe announced settlement Wednesday of an Ohio-Pennsylvania truck tax dispute.

Under an agreement between the two states, Saxbe said Ohio truckers will pay Pennsylvania's "road tax" on fuel used by trucks in that state and Pennsylvania truckers will pay Ohio's "axle-mile" tax on big rigs.

"On the basis of this committment showing Pennsylvania's intentions, we will put in abeyance any idea of cancelling reciprocity with Pennsylvania," Saxbe said.

Bush Victory Stands Up In Recount Here

William Bush, victor in the solicitor's race on the Republican primary ticket at Wellsville, gained eight more votes in a recount held Tuesday night by the Columbiana County Board of Elections.

The recount was asked by Solicitor Delmar T. O'Hara. Bush, an attorney, won on a write-in vote.

The board officially set Bush's total at 252 following the recount. O'Hara lost two votes as the result of the tabulation, with his official tally now 212.

The board refunded O'Hara $55, charging him only $5 per precinct for the recount. Under law he had to post $10 for each of the 11 precincts.

The recount started at 7 and ended shortly before 9. Bush represented himself, while O'Hara was represented by his law partner, William Telzrow.

Board members present were Don Gosney of Columbiana, Charles Pike of Lisbon and G. William Brokaw of East Liverpool. Carl Stacey, a fourth member, was unable to attend.

Miss Rebecca Resnick, board clerk, was in charge.

Arab Forces Alerted For Threat By Israel

CAIRO (AP) — Syria and the United Arab Republic placed their armed forces in a state of full alert today to counter what the Arabs say is an imminent Israeli military threat.

Foreign Minister Mahmound Riad received the Soviet Union's ambassador in Cairo Tuesday night to discuss "the situation resulting from mass Israeli troop concentrations on Syria's border," the semiofficial Middle East News Agency said.

Wellsville Jaycees Plan Pottery Industry Festival

The Wellsville Jaycees Board of Directors has announced the club will undertake the development of a Pottery Industry Festival, with emphasis on the display and promotion of ware manufactured in the tri-state area.

Lloyd Rhodes, president of the Wellsville Kiwanis Club, was a guest at the Monday night board meeting and suggested the organization develop the project.

Plans for the festival will be advanced during the regular membership meeting Monday at 8 p.m. in the Jaycee Hall.

Board members said the festival might be a week-long event or at least extend over a weekend at the outset. Ralph Fusco, president, however, said he favored more than just a one-day event.

The directors said the festival may include displays, a parade, social events and possibly industrial tours of the area's plants. Cooperation of the local pottery industry will be sought when committees are appointed.

The board said it felt this could be the "biggest project ever undertaken by Wellsville Jaycees."

Scholastic awards for the top students of all Wellsville High School classes will be presented during the annual Jaycee scholastic awards banquet. No date has been set.

Mike Cook, driving Road-e-o chairman, reported 29 candidates have completed the written test and will compete Sunday afternoon at Mason's IGA parking lot beginning at 1 p.m. Contestant's must sign in by $12:30, he said.

The inaugural ball is scheduled for June 17 at the SOI hotel. Dr. Frank Rivelle, chairman, reported the committee will soon be mailing invitations to all present and "exhausted" members of the organization.

The Junior Miss Pageant for 1967 was discussed. Chairmen will be named after the election of new officers. The secretary was instructed to contact the state Junior Miss organization to renew the franchise.

The board recommended the president and one other member attend the state convention May 26 through 28 in Cleveland. Wellsville is entitled to two votes on the state level because of its membership classification.

Election of new officers will be held Monday night at 8 in the Jaycee hall, 11th and Center Sts.

Jaycees have received 100 flag kits for a special emphasis on "Americanism." The kits will be sold by members upon request and also during a door-to-door campaign previous to the Memorial Day weekend.

Morgantown District Lodge Hit By Blaze

MORGANTOWN (AP) — Fire which caused an estimated $100,000 damage to the guest lodge of the Lakeview Country Club at nearby Cheat Lake was brought under control last midnight.

More than 100 firemen from all surrounding communities fought the blaze for nearly four hours Tuesday night before bringing it under control.

There were no injuries reported as most of the guests in the 41-unit lodge were in the clubhouse dining, but an unidentified fireman and a club employe, 31-year-old Owen Brownfield of Morgantown, were overcome by smoke.

Both were treated at West Virginia University Hospital.

A staff member of the club placed the damage estimate at "at least $100,000," with 29 rooms of the lodge destroyed and the remaining rooms sustaining smoke and water damage.

The lodge is only one building in the complex of the multi-million dollar club built several years ago by coal magnate H. Ward Christopher.

Brothers Hurt In Bike Mishap

A city youth was hospitalized and his brother injured when the bicycle they were riding wrecked Tuesday at 4:37 p.m. on Price St. near their home.

Michael Barker, 13, is in "fair" condition today at City Hospital with a possible concussion, multiple abrasions and contusions of the body and a laceration of the lower lip.

Clyde Barker, 7, was treated for abrasions of the face and an injury of the left thumb. They are the sons of Clyde Barker of Price St. Ext.

Police received a call the two had been injured when their bicycle upset. They were taken to the hospital in a cruiser.

The boys told police they were riding when Clyde got his foot entangled in the spokes, causing them to wreck.

Coordinator Needed Now

The need for a full - time planning coordinator for East Liverpool has reached the critical point.

With the complexities of communitywide planning, with the various federal programs available, with the need to relate the city's development with county, state and regional programs, with effort toward industrial development, this is one position which should have been filled long before.

Mayor George Willshaw and the city and civic leaders involved in the planning and development programs so far have performed capably within their limited available time and duties.

But the very requirement for many of the projects in which this city must participate if it is to progress is a full-time staff executive, knowledgeable in the ever-changing and complex rules and procedures involved.

A prime question about the new position is finances — from where will the money come.

Councilmen and a group of civic representatives plan to get together to determine how such funds can be obtained.

It may seem simple to some to eliminate certain services or expenses in the city's budget to come up with the required amount. But such is not the case—Councilmen and city officials have firsthand understanding of the total picture of community needs and finances, and they have underscored the difficulty of obtaining the needed funds.

However, we join with others in the community in the sincere hope that resources can be found because a full-time coordinator is virtually a must.

East Liverpool has invested thousands of dollars in the comprehensive plan which holds the key to the city's future only if the proper incentive and guidance is provided by such a staffer.

Countless opportunities for assistance from government, for new projects, for increasing returns on our tax dollars are being lost because the community lacks such a man.

Unless the step is taken for placing this city on the same level with other communities — many of them smaller — who have a coordinator, we will fall behind in the competition for industry, and for our share of state and federal funds, plans for the internal development East Liverpool will lag, and the current financial plight and other problems we face will be with us for decades to come.

George Wallace's Rightists

An interesting aspect of U. S. public opinion is brought to light by George Wallace's journeys to and fro in the Republic he says he wants to save.

The former Alabama governor's background and current comments have a tendency to polarize the rightists he appeals to and defends.

It is possible to tell what parts of the country he is in by knowing what reactions he elicits. When he appeared at Dartmouth College in New Hampshire, he elicited a violently hostile reaction. When he appeared in the state of Virginia, he was warmly greeted and listened to with rapt sympathy.

In appearances at Princeton, N.J., and Philadelphia, he was greeted cooly — not violently but with no show of sympathy.

Thus it has been going and will continue to go with this unbridled spokesman of the far right. He is openly bidding for public support for a dominant role in presidential politicking in 1968 — not that he thinks of himself as a contender but as a source of nuisance value in the irreconcilable South.

Mr. Wallace could bleed the Republican party of its budding strength in the irreconcilable South if he ran as an independent presidential candidate. He would do no harm to the Democratic candidate, but he could do irreparable injury to a right-wing Republican candidate. He is in a bargaining position.

The former governor has his rights — and his rightists. He is doing a signal service in the two-party system by polarizing his following.

If by some political magic all extreme rightists could be rounded up in one camp, the two major parties then could get on with their vital task of making the two-party system work the way it is supposed to work; i.e., to give voters a chance to change administrations without going through a revolution.

What's The Good News?

By Truman Twill

Readers often ask why newspapers don't print more good news, instead of filling their pages day after day with bad news.

A telephone caller has been telling us about a fine job of cleaning up and tree planting done by a Boy Scout troop in his neighborhood. "This," he says, "is the kind of thing newspapers should print on the front page — not all those stories about juvenile delinquents, crime and violence."

Well sir, it's like this:

Newspapers, television and radio do share responsibility for inflicting an overdose of bad news on the news-reading public. This has come about accidentally because of wider dissemination of news in recent years, with first radio, then TV supplementing the newspapers' coverage.

It is not an uncommon experience for people to read several newspapers a day, listen to a couple of radio newscasts and a couple of TV newscasts and get the impression everything is going to hell in a basket.

It is a kind of Chinese water treatment — drip, drip, drip, relentlessly day in and day about. All is lost. There is no balm in Gilead.

People with a sense of balance deplore a deepening impression among people with no sense of balance that all is lost and darkness and evil are dominant.

People with a sense of balance know this is not true. They know darkness and evil are still the exception, not the rule.

They know about the sweet and wonderful things people do for one another and that this truly is the best of all possible worlds. They understand why news, which is concerned with what is unusual, must deal for the most part with bad behavior. Why? Because bad behavior is unusual.

Would it be asking too much to suggest that people suffering from an "overdose of media," as one current cartoon puts it, would take an antidote of their own prescription?

Let them look at the wonderful kids of their own acquaintance while reading about scruffy bumbleheads who get into the news with their autos.

Let them be aware of Christian love while reading about mass slaughter in Asian rice paddies.

Let them bear in mind the nearly 200 million Americans and the several billions of human beings elsewhere who lead exemplary lives day in and day out while an infinitesimal minority of bad actors louse up the world to the best of their nefarious ability.

And by all means let them bear in mind how much space and time the newspapers and all other news media give day by day to the good news of the last third of this 20th century. Funny, how so many of them never seem to notice the good news even when it's there.

Must be, they aren't looking for it very hard.

The Chou Line

By James Marlow

As the U. S. forces under Gen. Douglas MacArthur got ready to drive the North Korean invaders back into their own country and follow them there was some fear the Red Chinese might leap into the war on the side of North Korea.

But Dean Acheson, secretary of state under President Harry S. Truman, minimized the chance of the Chinese doing that. They'd be mad to try it and besides, he said, there was a lot of trouble going on inside Red China.

But the Chinese premier, Chou En-lai, said his people would not stand by if the "Western imperialists" invaded the North. But the U.S. and South Korean forces did invade.

The Chinese plunged into the war — they called their troops volunteers — and the result was an American disaster.

Now the U. S. forces are fighting in South Vietnam. At the moment there is no talk here of American troops invading North Vietnam, but American planes have been bombing it steadily and once again Chou En-lai had something to say.

IN AN INTERVIEW obtained by Simon Malley and published by the Chicago Daily News, Chou warned Red China might decide it is necessary to intervene in this war, too, with a horde of so-called volunteers.

Chou said the North Vietnamese could get this help from Red China any time they asked for it. But in his talk with Malley, a U. S. citizen who is a correspondent for some African newspapers, Chou said China might barge in on its own under some other circumstances.

He said the Chinese would intervene if the Americans invaded North Vietnam and the Chinese considered this a threat to their own security or if the Americans and Soviets tried to force North Vietnam into what he called a sell-out peace.

No U. S. official so far this time has attempted to minimize the danger implicit in Chou's words even though China, as in the Korean days, is having a lot of internal trouble.

Yet, ominous as Chou's warning was, it has to be looked at two ways — a perilous burden for any administration official trying to plan for the war ahead with North Vietnam.

In the first place, Chou was saying he can play it any which way. Red China can intervene on invitation from North Vietnam or Red China might decide to intervene, even if North Vietnam didn't want it to, for its own reasons.

This is pretty good psychology if he feels that by deepening American uncertainty about Red China's intentions he can make the Americans supercautious, and as a result perhaps ineffective, in fighting the war with North Vietnam.

For he raised this at a time when critics of the war in this country are urging a pause in the bombing and raising the specter of Chinese intervention if the United States keeps on intensifying the war.

In short, intended or not, he is giving the critics grisly support to serve his own purpose which is to see the United States reduce its war effort, a move that very well might enable the North Vietnamese to continue fighting indefinitely.

BUT HIS warning, instead of softening the American determination, may harden it. As U. S. casualties increase, American impatience with restraint will increase since this country is carefully avoiding anything like an all-out effort.

If the mood here hardens, it will take into consideration the possibility of Chinese intervention and, in the face of that, decide to go ahead, make the war tougher, risk war with China, and handle that problem when it comes.

Perhaps the most gruesome part of Chou's statement was his warning that should the war be fought through and North Vietnam decides to quit, the Chinese may step in if they don't like the peace terms.

Who on this side at this point could possibly feel sure any kind of peace terms would be acceptable to Red China? The very uncertainty of this, and the overhanging threat, may by itself toughen the American mood.

So What's Today?

Italian Labor Fights Reds

By Victor Riesel

WASHINGTON — In "central intelligence" they operate on the theory that the price is always right if the "information" or operation is vital to survival of this nation and its interests.

How high is right? Judge for yourself. In Rome, an Italian labor leader once asked former Teamsters' leader, blue-eyed Dave Beck, for $18 million annually just to "compete" with what the Communist Party of Italy was throwing into union organizing work.

Victor Riesel

Even Dave Beck blanched to his bald pate. But he had asked a direct question. He got a direct answer from Giulio Pastore, then chief of the Confederation of Italian Labor Syndicates (CISL) and now Minister without portfolio in the Italian cabinet. (I vouch for this story.)

I was there when Beck asked Pastore how much it would take for an effective counteraction against the Communist apparatus. We were in Pastore's office. With us were Beck's son and two representatives of the AFL. That was in 1953. Characteristically, Beck raised a few dollars and contributed an automobile. But some one had to pay the bill to save Italy from first being crippled by Communist-led general strikes — and then from seizure by paramilitary action squads in factories, transport and on the docks.

SOME OF the money came from American labor. The bulk came from the Central Intelligence Agency. It was dollar for ruble. Why not?

The cost never diminished.

As late as 1962, Walter Reuther urged the U.S. government to make $2 million available for a fight in Italy. His strategy called for uniting all the Italian metal workers (steel, auto, shipbuilding, construction, etc.) in one big union. This was to include the anti-Communists, the Socialists and the Communists in a mass federation. The $2 million was approved. The AFL-CIO President George Meany fought it. He would not have any dealings with the Communist unions — no united front. He called the late President Kennedy. The project was killed.

But other operations were not. They're under way right now in Latin America, Africa and Asia. Why not? Britain's MI-6, France's Deuzieme Bureau and other national intelligence services manipulate similar fronts. The U.S. would be out in the cold if it forced the CIA to kill its "labor unit."

But to know why the national AFL-CIO leaders such as George Meany are agitated by the reports of CIA funding, the public should know that the labor leaders were there long before the CIA was a gleam in Harry Truman's eye.

When the Nazis began gas-chambering labor leaders, the garment workers' David Dubinsky went to Franklin Roosevelt and got 300 visas for their entry into the U.S. The peppery needle trades' chief knew that some day, after the war was over, labor men would be needed to rebuilt a free and anti-Communist movement.

THE MONEY then came from his ladies garment workers and the AFL. Later he and Jay Lovestone, a most unmysterious cloakless chap — who worked with the Catholic underground as well as with those in the CIA who sought information — and the late AFL first vice-president Matthew Woll launched the Free Trade Union Committee. They spent millions. But it was all labor money.

They worked closely with the labor desk of the Office of Strategic Services (OSS). Its chief was a Chicago labor lawyer, by name of Arthur Goldberg. By 1944 they were swinging. The CIA did not get into action until 1948. Then it had to pull together all the remnants of the old wartime OSS. By that time the AFL not only had Jay Lovestone and Irving Brown (a sort of Scarlet Pimpernel who knew every Communist cell and every great restaurant in Europe), but also Henry Rutz, a chap who did a skilled job in educating British and U.S. Army occupation officers. Rutz taught them the difference between Communists, pro-Communist Socialists, anti-Communist Socialists and Social Democrats.

THIS not-very-Ian Flemingish trio helped save West Berlin, Germany, France, Italy and Finland, too. Then the CIA came along. It has new covers today.

Not only were the anti-Communists unions succored, free enterprise industry survived too. The Communists concentrated on the big plants owned by major American corporations. In the late 40s they sent their action squads into the plants. They used chains. They used spikes to cut tires of trucks bringing in workers. They theorized that by driving off American investments, Europe's economy would collapse.

It did not. But scores of millions had to be spent to rescue the basic force in any nation's infrastructure — the labor force which, in the wrong hands, can decide on the day a country shall stand still.

Of course, millions are still being spent annually to save other continents. But this petty cash is far short of the $250 million which the Soviety Union spends a year on its front covers. What's wrong with trying to match each ruble with a penny or two? Freedom's worth it.

Odd Facts

Possibly the first "air mail" in history was inaugurated in 1870. When the Prussians surrounded Paris, all communication with the outside world was cut off and the government decided to try balloons, putting 60 of these balloons into daily operation, with pigeons accompanying them to carry return mail. More than 2½ million letters were delivered by this first air mail system.

The largest snail known in the world is the African giant land snail, which measures as much as ten inches in length. A snail's pace varies according to species from 23 inches per hour up to as much as 55 yards per hour.

U Thant's Role

By David Lawrence

U.N. Aide Seen Partial

The time has come — in the opinion of many people in official circles to do some plain speaking on the failure of U Thant, secretary - general of the United Nations, to face up to his responsibilities as an impartial executive of that organization and to cease being a partisan of the Soviet Union, Red China and the anti-American segment of Southeast Asia.

Peace negotiations in the Vietnam War might long ago have been begun if the secretary-general had not given the impression that he sides with those who are convinced the United States will accept terms of virtual surrender.

The American government thus far has treated with politeness and courtesy U Thants' criticisms. Ambassador Goldberg has engaged for several months now in a polite and tactful dialogue rebutting the unfounded statements and inferences that have come publicly from the secretary-general.

Responding to remarks by U Thant at a press conference last Friday — in which we again placed blame on this country for supposedly refusing to enter peace negotiations with North Vietnam — Mr. Goldberg said:

"It is sometimes forgotten that we have expressed repeatedly our readiness to consider moves to de-escalate the war and to take the first step. I reaffirmed yesterday the offer made in my speech of September 22, 1966, in the general assembly. . . .

"The authorities in Hanoi have made a number of statements implying, without quite saying so, that if the bombings were stopped permanently and unconditionally, Hanoi would be willing to talk. But it surely would not be unreasonable for us, before proceeding along these lines, to ask that certain clarifying questions be answered."

If ever there was a mission of peace-making marked out for the United Nations to pursue, it is attaining the "clarification" called for by Ambassador Goldberg.

But the secretary - general can hardly accomplish this alone. It is his primary obligation to help arrange for meetings of the Security Council or the General Assembly so when all the facts have been presented U.N. members, themselves, may decide what steps shall be taken under the U.N. Charter.

It is frequently argued that since the Soviet Union has the power of veto in the Security Council, there is not much use going before that body.

But the U.N. Charter makes clear that the viewpoint of any nation or group of nations can be presented to the Security Council and, in effect, before the entire world.

Then, if a veto is exercised, the case may be submitted to the General Assembly, which can itself authorize a peace-keeping operation and assume full responsibility for ordering an armistice.

When the U.N. stipulates conditions of a cease-fire, there is little risk for either side in acceptance.

A palpable violation of the armistice would tend to line up world opinion against the party guilty of bad faith.

While results of the Korean peace negotiation, for instance, were not entirely satisfactory to either side, nevertheless a means of ending a prolonged war was provided in 1953.

Actually, no peace treaty has ever been signed, and occasionally the armistice agreement has been violated. The net effect, however, has been to stop the fighting.

A number of the members of the General Assembly have leaned toward the Communists on the Vietnam issue, but certainly the time would seem to be ripe now to test the courage and peace - keeping philosophy of the majority of the United Nations.

Many Americans and Europeans as well have long wondered why in an emergency the U.N. does not give closer attention to the high principles of its own charter.

This document says explicitly that the General Assembly "may recommend measures for the peaceful adjustment on any situation, regardles of origin, which it deems likely to impair the general welfare or friendly relations among nations."

So What's Today?

Italian Labor Fights Reds

By Victor Riesel

WASHINGTON — In "central intelligence" they operate on the theory that the price is always right if the "information" or operation is vital to survival of this nation and its interests.

How high is right? Judge for yourself. In Rome, an Italian labor leader once asked former Teamsters' leader, blue-eyed Dave Beck, for $18 million annually just to "compete" with what the Communist Party of Italy was throwing into union organizing work.

Victor Riesel

Even Dave Beck blanched to his bald pate. But he had asked a direct question. He got a direct answer from Giulio Pastore, then chief of the Confederation of Italian Labor Syndicates (CISL) and now Minister without portfolio in the Italian cabinet. (I vouch for this story.)

I was there when Beck asked Pastore how much it would take for an effective counteraction against the Communist apparatus. We were in Pastore's office. With us were Beck's son and two representatives of the AFL. That was in 1953. Characteristically, Beck raised a few dollars and contributed an automobile. But some one had to pay the bill to save Italy from first being crippled by Communist-led general strikes — and then from seizure by paramilitary action squads in factories, transport and on the docks.

SOME OF the money came from American labor. The bulk came from the Central Intelligence Agency. It was dollar for ruble. Why not?

The cost never diminished.

As late as 1962, Walter Reuther urged the U.S. government to make $2 million available for a fight in Italy. His strategy called for uniting all the Italian metal workers (steel, auto, shipbuilding, construction, etc.) in one big union. This was to include the anti-Communists, the Socialists and the Communists in a mass federation. The $2 million was approved. The AFL-CIO President George Meany fought it. He would not have any dealings with the Communist unions — no united front. He called the late President Kennedy. The project was killed.

But other operations were not. They're under way right now in Latin America, Africa and Asia. Why not? Britain's MI-6, France's Deuzieme Bureau and other national intelligence services manipulate similar fronts. The U.S. would be out in the cold if it forced the CIA to kill its "labor unit."

But to know why the national AFL-CIO leaders such as George Meany are agitated by the reports of CIA funding, the public should know that the labor leaders were there long before the CIA was a gleam in Harry Truman's eye.

When the Nazis began gas-chambering labor leaders, the garment workers' David Dubinsky went to Franklin Roosevelt and got 300 visas for their entry into the U.S. The peppery needle trades' chief knew that some day, after the war was over, labor men would be needed to rebuilt a free and anti-Communist movement.

THE MONEY then came from his ladies garment workers and the AFL. Later he and Jay Lovestone, a most unmysterious cloakless chap — who worked with the Catholic underground as well as with those in the CIA who sought information — and the late AFL first vice-president Matthew Woll launched the Free Trade Union Committee. They spent millions. But it was all labor money.

They worked closely with the labor desk of the Office of Strategic Services (OSS). Its chief was a Chicago labor lawyer, by name of Arthur Goldberg. By 1944 they were swinging. The CIA did not get into action until 1948. Then it had to pull together all the remnants of the old wartime OSS. By that time the AFL not only had Jay Lovestone and Irving Brown (a sort of Scarlet Pimpernel who knew every Communist cell and every great restaurant in Europe), but also Henry Rutz, a chap who did a skilled job in educating British and U.S. Army occupation officers. Rutz taught them the difference between Communists, pro-Communist Socialists, anti-Communist Socialists and Social Democrats.

THIS not-very-Ian Flemingish trio helped save West Berlin, Germany, France, Italy and Finland, too. Then the CIA came along. It has new covers today.

Not only were the anti-Communists unions succored, free enterprise industry survived too. The Communists concentrated on the big plants owned by major American corporations. In the late 40s they sent their action squads into the plants. They used chains. They used spikes to cut tires of trucks bringing in workers. They theorized that by driving off American investments, Europe's economy would collapse.

It did not. But scores of millions had to be spent to rescue the basic force in any nation's infrastructure — the labor force which, in the wrong hands, can decide on the day a country shall stand still.

Of course, millions are still being spent annually to save other continents. But this petty cash is far short of the $250 million which the Soviety Union spends a year on its front covers. What's wrong with trying to match each ruble with a penny or two? Freedom's worth it.

Odd Facts

Possibly the first "air mail" in history was inaugurated in 1870. When the Prussians surrounded Paris, all communication with the outside world was cut off and the government decided to try balloons, putting 60 of these balloons into daily operation, with pigeons accompanying them to carry return mail. More than 2½ million letters were delivered by this first air mail system.

The largest snail known in the world is the African giant land snail, which measures as much as ten inches in length. A snail's pace varies according to species from 23 inches per hour up to as much as 55 yards per hour.

U Thant's Role

By David Lawrence

U.N. Aide Seen Partial

The time has come — in the opinion of many people in official circles to do some plain speaking on the failure of U Thant, secretary - general of the United Nations, to face up to his responsibilities as an impartial executive of that organization and to cease being a partisan of the Soviet Union, Red China and the anti-American segment of Southeast Asia.

Peace negotiations in the Vietnam War might long ago have been begun if the secretary-general had not given the impression that he sides with those who are convinced the United States will accept terms of virtual surrender.

The American government thus far has treated with politeness and courtesy U Thants' criticisms. Ambassador Goldberg has engaged for several months now in a polite and tactful dialogue rebutting the unfounded statements and inferences that have come publicly from the secretary-general.

Responding to remarks by U Thant at a press conference last Friday — in which we again placed blame on this country for supposedly refusing to enter peace negotiations with North Vietnam — Mr. Goldberg said:

"It is sometimes forgotten that we have expressed repeatedly our readiness to consider moves to de-escalate the war and to take the first step. I reaffirmed yesterday the offer made in my speech of September 22, 1966, in the general assembly. . . .

"The authorities in Hanoi have made a number of statements implying, without quite saying so, that if the bombings were stopped permanently and unconditionally, Hanoi would be willing to talk. But it surely would not be unreasonable for us, before proceeding along these lines, to ask that certain clarifying questions be answered."

If ever there was a mission of peace-making marked out for the United Nations to pursue, it is attaining the "clarification" called for by Ambassador Goldberg.

But the secretary - general can hardly accomplish this alone. It is his primary obligation to help arrange for meetings of the Security Council or the General Assembly so when all the facts have been presented U.N. members, themselves, may decide what steps shall be taken under the U.N. Charter.

It is frequently argued that since the Soviet Union has the power of veto in the Security Council, there is not much use going before that body.

But the U.N. Charter makes clear that the viewpoint of any nation or group of nations can be presented to the Security Council and, in effect, before the entire world.

Then, if a veto is exercised, the case may be submitted to the General Assembly, which can itself authorize a peace-keeping operation and assume full responsibility for ordering an armistice.

When the U.N. stipulates conditions of a cease-fire, there is little risk for either side in acceptance.

A palpable violation of the armistice would tend to line up world opinion against the party guilty of bad faith.

While results of the Korean peace negotiation, for instance, were not entirely satisfactory to either side, nevertheless a means of ending a prolonged war was provided in 1953.

Actually, no peace treaty has ever been signed, and occasionally the armistice agreement has been violated. The net effect, however, has been to stop the fighting.

A number of the members of the General Assembly have leaned toward the Communists on the Vietnam issue, but certainly the time would seem to be ripe now to test the courage and peace - keeping philosophy of the majority of the United Nations.

Many Americans and Europeans as well have long wondered why in an emergency the U.N. does not give closer attention to the high principles of its own charter.

This document says explicitly that the General Assembly "may recommend measures for the peaceful adjustment on any situation, regardles of origin, which it deems likely to impair the general welfare or friendly relations among nations."

Anti-Pollution Plan Advanced

By WILLIAM V. MERRIMAN
Review Staff Correspondent

COLUMBUS, Ohio — An Ohio Senate committee Tuesday discounted a word of caution from U.S. Rep. Margaret M. Heckler, R-Mass., and put its stamp of approval on the proposed Ohio - West Virginia Air Pollution Abatement Compact.

Mrs. Heckler had warned the compact, already passed by the West Virginia legislature, might not meet federal requirements.

But Sen. Michael J. Maloney, chairman of the ways and means committee, quickly pointed out his query to the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare on Mrs. Heckler's assessment has not been answered and advised the committee to proceed with this in mind.

THE BILL, which passed the house 94-2, now goes to the Senate rules committee for floor assignment.

Among the measure's co-sponsors are Reps. Clarence L. Wetzel, R-Columbiana, and Douglas Applegate, D-Jefferson.

An identical bill introduced in the Senate is co-sponsored by Sen. John Longsworth, R-Salem.

Longsworth was joined in testimony before the committee Tuesday by two officers of the Ohio - West Virginia Industry Committee on air pollution abatement, which drew up the legislation last fall.

Committee Chairman Fred E. Tucker, an employe of the National Steel Corp. in Weirton, said Washington officials expressed approval of the compact during hearings in the Senate Public Works Committee.

Among the measure's biggest boosters, he added, are West Virginia's U.S. Sens. Robert Byrd and Jennings Randolph.

Another witness was E. E. Fournace of Canton, an Ohio Power Co. employe and vice chairman of the pollution abatement committee. Fournace noted the Federal Clean Air Act will provide up to 75 per cent of the funds to operate the pollution abatement program, with Ohio and West Virginia sharing equally in the balance of the cost.

RUNNING briefly through the bill, Fournace explained a 10-member interstate commission would have power to set standards similar to those adopted by state air pollution control agencies.

When interstate air pollution —created on one side of the Ohio River and affecting areas on the other side — would be detected, the commission would investigate and prepare a report.

Before the report is filed, however, offending industries would be notified and given reasonable opportunity to correct the condition.

Failure to comply would result in a hearing and finally in court action against the violator.

In a busy floor session Tuesday, the Senate passed without opposition a bill co - sponsored by Longsworth to allow small trust companies to form fiduciary investment companies.

By banding together, sponsors explained, smaller companies would be able to compete on equal footing with larger lending institutions.

RUNNING briefly through the bill, Fournace explained a 10-member interstate commission would have power to set standards similar to those adopted by state air pollution control agencies.

When interstate air pollution —created on one side of the Ohio River and affecting areas on the other side — would be detected, the commission would investigate and prepare a report.

Before the report is filed, however, offending industries would be notified and given reasonable opportunity to correct the condition.

Failure to comply would result in a hearing and finally in court action against the violator.

In a busy floor session Tuesday, the Senate passed without opposition a bill co - sponsored by Longsworth to allow small trust companies to form fiduciary investment companies.

city and $6,665 for the schools.

A similar study of the commercial sites showed $2,129 was produced annually for tax money from the commercial sites slated to be taken by the new road.

In addition, the estimated yearly total of water purchase was $2,297, for sewer services $2,265, and for sanitation service, $1,090.

Chamber officials indicated that agreement with the state's plan would be "yielding" and Russell stated "I don't die that easily."

Later, council said they would approve the state - supplied resolution approving the road with its ramps and interchanges.

In other business, the Chamber also protested the increase from pennies to nickels in the city parking meters. Donald Penn presented a petition with 65 signatures of downtown merchants, claimed to be 100 per cent, protesting the hike and requesting a meeting to discuss the matter.

Republicans Aim Attack At Fund Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Republicans mounted a three-pronged attack today against a $10-billion appropriation bill financing the Department of Housing and Urban Affairs and 19 other federal agencies.

They are centering their fire on three controversial programs —rent subsidies, a model cities project and participation sales certificates—but are reserving some pot shots for such other projects as urban renewal and mass transportation grants.

The house ended general debate on the bill Tuesday but put off voting on amendments until today because many members were absent.

The Appropriations Committee last week cut the rent subsidy program 75 per cent and lopped off more than 60 per cent of the funds the administration requested for the model cities program. Its members hoped to hold the line there.

The rent subsidy program approved in 1965 calls for the government to supplement rents paid to owners of private housing by eligible low-income families. In two years the program has been financed with $32 million.

President Johnson asked for $40 million to keep the program moving next year but the Appropriations Committee cut this to $10 million. Rep. Glenn R. Davis, R-Wis., said he expected strong GOP backing for an amendment to knock out all the money.

For the model cities program, devised to help selected cities develop and carry out plans to rebuild slums and blighted areas, the President requested a total of $662 million. The committee approved $237 million, including $12 million for planning grants.

Rep. Paul Fino, R-N.Y., said he would seek to eliminate all but the $12 million for planning. He told the House the program was designed to "promote social change and upheaval."

British Figure Dies

LONDON (AP) — Arthur Henson Narracott, 63, air correspondent for the London Times for 27 years, died Tuesday. He served with the Royal Air Force in France between 1939 and 1940 and later was war correspondent for the Times with allied forces in France, North Africa and Italy.

Poats Gains Senate's Nod For Aid Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rutherford M. Poats has won Senate confirmation as No. 2 man in the U.S. foreign aid program but likely hasn't heard the last from his chief congressional critic, Sen. Birch Bayh.

Bayh lost Tuesday his long fight to block approval of Poats' nomination but announced he plans to continue his investigation of the Agency for International Development. Poats is now AID's deputy administrator.

Bayh, Indiana Democrat, said he would continue looking into an apparent business connection between AID and "a firm whose clients include Chiniese Communist interests."

He did not elaborate but an aide said Bayh would disclose details soon.

The senator, a 39-year-old first-termer, had fought almost singlehandedly against Poats' appointment since President Johnson announced it last October.

Poats, 44, a blunt-spoken ex-newspaperman not given to currying congressional favor, has directed AID's Far East program the last two years.

Bayh blamed Poats for mismanagement and waste in economic assistance to South Vietnam.

The nominee barely survived a key vote when the Senate rejected 43 to 42 a Bayh motion to refer the nomination back to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

The final vote for confirmation was 61 to 24.

Poats was named to succeed William S. Gaud, who moved up to the top spot in AID when David Bell resigned.

Reds Parlay Pirate Errors Into 2nd Straight Win, 6-3

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Atlanta Braves are running short on strong arms, but their best glove is helping make up the difference—with his bat.

Clete Boyer, the Braves' slick-fielding third baseman, belted a two-run double and bases-empty homer in Tuesday night's 6-3 victory over the New York Mets.

The home run was the fourth this season for Boyer, who was acquired in a winter trade with the New York Yankees, and the 100th of his career. He has driven in 13 runs for the Braves, helping sluggers Hank Aaron, Joe Torre & Co. compensate for the loss of two injured pitching standouts.

Tony Cloninger, the club's right-handed ace, was placed on the disabled list Tuesday because of blurred vision in his left eye. Ken Johnson, a veteran right-hander, has been sidelined with a virus ailment.

The Review Sports
WEDNESDAY, MAY 17, 1967 PAGE 14

Torre, however, was pressed into service in the fourth inning Tuesday night when his replacement, Gene Oliver, got thrown out of the game for protesting a call.

Reliever Jay Ritchie, who also entered the game in the fourth, made Boyer's timely hitting stand up by retiring all 16 batters he faced to earn his first NL victory.

"That homer leaves me only 400 behind Mickey Mantle," Boyer quipped after the Braves' victory lifted them over the .500 mark at 15-14. "And he's 35 years old; I'm only 30."

Elsewhere, league-leading Cincinnati downed Pittsburgh 6-3, St. Louis nipped Philadelphia 4-3, San Francisco beat Chicago 2-1 and Los Angeles whipped Houston 6-1.

Boyer's two-run double in the fifth snapped a 3-3 tie at Atlanta and the ex-Yankee glove wizard homered in the eighth. The two hits raised his batting average to .250 in 25 games.

Ritchie, who compiled a 2-4 American League record at Boston before joining the Braves last year, bailed starter Wade Blasingame out of a fourth-inning jam and stymied the Mets the rest of the way.

The Reds scored three runs without a hit in the second inning on the way to their fourth straight victory. Mel Queen struck out nine and blanked the Pirates until the ninth while boosting his pitching mark to 5-1.

Pittsburgh starter Woody Fryman left the game with arm trouble after walking the bases full with two out in the second. Reliever Steve Blass wild-pitched a run home then struck out Tommy Happer—only to have the pitch get by catcher Jesse Gonder. Gonder picked up the ball and heaved it wildly past first base as two more runs scored.

Mike Shannon's run-scoring single in the ninth lifted the Cardinals past Philadelphia. A walk and Orlando Cepeda's single set up Shannon's deciding hit.

Cookie Rojas' eighth-inning homer pulled the Phillies even after St. Louis took a 3-2 lead on Tim McCarver's RBI triple.

Juan Marichal became the league's first six-game winner, scattering seven hits as the Giants slipped past the Cubs with the help of Willie Mays' 547th homer. Marichal, who lost his first three starts but is unbeaten since then, struck out seven.

The Dodgers buried the Astros behind Claude Osteen's six-hit pitching and the hitting of catcher John Roseboro, who had two singles and a homer, good for two runs batted in.

Tiger Given Split Decision

Riot Breaks Out; Garden Imposes Ban

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Puerto Rican fighters will be barred from main events at Madison Square Garden for a cooling-off period, it was learned today following the second riot within 10 weeks and the third in 21 months at a fight show in the famed arena.

Bottles, pieces of chairs and other missiles were tossed into the ring and the ringside sections Tuesday night shortly after light-heavyweight champion Dick Tiger of Nigeria was awarded a split decision over Puerto Rican-born Jose Torres in a very close return, 15-round title bout.

Eleven persons suffered cuts and were treated at nearby hospitals, police reported. None of the victims was reported seriously hurt. No arrests were reported.

The other two riots involved fights featuring Puerto Rican-born Frankie Narvaez, a New York lightweight who lost both times.

In the first, Narvaez dropped a split decision in a close fight with Flash Elorde of the Philippines on Aug. 4, 1965. In the second, on March 10, 1967, Panama's Ismael Laguna decisively whipped Narvaez and was awarded a unanimous decision by whopping margins.

As a result of the third riot, a proposed title fight between lightweight champion Carlos Ortiz, a Puerto Rican-born New Yorker, and Laguna may not be held in New York or may be put off for some time. The fight had been considered a sure sellout.

A Garden source, who asked not to be identified, said, "We can't go with that or any main event with a Puerto Rican for some time after this one."

Tiger had dethroned the 3-1 favored Torres on a decisive and unanimous decision at the Garden last Dec. 16 before a crowd of 13,654 that paid $100,488. There were no disorders at that fight.

In the return bout, Torres, with an advantage in age, weight, height and reach, was favored again, this time by narrower 8-5 odds. It drew a crowd of 12,674 and $104,459, and grossed $60,000 more from national television.

Referee Harold Valan and judge Johnny Dran each voted for Tiger by 8-7 margins in rounds. Judge Joe Eppy had it 8-7 for Torres. The Associated Press also had it 8-7 for Torres.

A ringside poll showed an 8-7 edge for Torres with most of the writers having scores with similar razor-thin margins.

Torres had predicted a knockout victory. He went after his lighter — 173 pounds to 167 — and shorter rival from the opening bell and they fought a fierce battle for three rounds.

The iron-jawed Nigerian, getting in close and banging away with both hands to the body and head, dominated the next five rounds. Torres spurted in the ninth and 10th, lost the 11th and then started his drive in the 12th.

When the scores were announced there was a momentary lull. Then a bottle was heaved from the balcony and then the other missiles rained down as spectators put wooden chairs over their heads and scurried for cover.

City police and firemen were summoned to help the special police in the Garden. It took at least 15 minutes before the disorders were quelled.

"They were like animals," said Dick Esau, the head of the Garden's security force.

Deputy police inspector David Fallek, on duty in the balcony, said, "I broke up several fist fights. I grabbed one guy and about 20 others surrounded me. I had to let go. I was too near the edge."

Reds Parlay Pirate Errors Into 2nd Straight Win, 6-3

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Atlanta Braves are running short on strong arms, but their best glove is helping make up the difference—with his bat.

Clete Boyer, the Braves' slick-fielding third baseman, belted a two-run double and bases-empty homer in Tuesday night's 6-3 victory over the New York Mets.

The home run was the fourth this season for Boyer, who was acquired in a winter trade with the New York Yankees, and the 100th of his career. He has driven in 13 runs for the Braves, helping sluggers Hank Aaron, Joe Torre & Co. compensate for the loss of two injured pitching standouts.

Tony Cloninger, the club's right-handed ace, was placed on the disabled list Tuesday because of blurred vision in his left eye. Ken Johnson, a veteran right-hander, has been sidelined with a virus ailment.

The Review Sports
WEDNESDAY, MAY 17, 1967 PAGE 14

Torre, however, was pressed into service in the fourth inning Tuesday night when his replacement, Gene Oliver, got thrown out of the game for protesting a call.

Reliever Jay Ritchie, who also entered the game in the fourth, made Boyer's timely hitting stand up by retiring all 16 batters he faced to earn his first NL victory.

"That homer leaves me only 400 behind Mickey Mantle," Boyer quipped after the Braves' victory lifted them over the .500 mark at 15-14. "And he's 35 years old; I'm only 30."

Elsewhere, league-leading Cincinnati downed Pittsburgh 6-3, St. Louis nipped Philadelphia 4-3, San Francisco beat Chicago 2-1 and Los Angeles whipped Houston 6-1.

Boyer's two-run double in the fifth snapped a 3-3 tie at Atlanta and the ex-Yankee glove wizard homered in the eighth. The two hits raised his batting average to .250 in 25 games.

Ritchie, who compiled a 2-4 American League record at Boston before joining the Braves last year, bailed starter Wade Blasingame out of a fourth-inning jam and stymied the Mets the rest of the way.

The Reds scored three runs without a hit in the second inning on the way to their fourth straight victory. Mel Queen struck out nine and blanked the Pirates until the ninth while boosting his pitching mark to 5-1.

Pittsburgh starter Woody Fryman left the game with arm trouble after walking the bases full with two out in the second. Reliever Steve Blass wild-pitched a run home then struck out Tommy Happer—only to have the pitch get by catcher Jesse Gonder. Gonder picked up the ball and heaved it wildly past first base as two more runs scored.

Mike Shannon's run-scoring single in the ninth lifted the Cardinals past Philadelphia. A walk and Orlando Cepeda's single set up Shannon's deciding hit.

Cookie Rojas' eighth-inning homer pulled the Phillies even after St. Louis took a 3-2 lead on Tim McCarver's RBI triple.

Juan Marichal became the league's first six-game winner, scattering seven hits as the Giants slipped past the Cubs with the help of Willie Mays' 547th homer. Marichal, who lost his first three starts but is unbeaten since then, struck out seven.

The Dodgers buried the Astros behind Claude Osteen's six-hit pitching and the hitting of catcher John Roseboro, who had two singles and a homer, good for two runs batted in.

Tiger Given Split Decision

Riot Breaks Out; Garden Imposes Ban

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Puerto Rican fighters will be barred from main events at Madison Square Garden for a cooling-off period, it was learned today following the second riot within 10 weeks and the third in 21 months at a fight show in the famed arena.

Bottles, pieces of chairs and other missiles were tossed into the ring and the ringside sections Tuesday night shortly after light-heavyweight champion Dick Tiger of Nigeria was awarded a split decision over Puerto Rican-born Jose Torres in a very close return, 15-round title bout.

Eleven persons suffered cuts and were treated at nearby hospitals, police reported. None of the victims was reported seriously hurt. No arrests were reported.

The other two riots involved fights featuring Puerto Rican-born Frankie Narvaez, a New York lightweight who lost both times.

In the first, Narvaez dropped a split decision in a close fight with Flash Elorde of the Philippines on Aug. 4, 1965. In the second, on March 10, 1967, Panama's Ismael Laguna decisively whipped Narvaez and was awarded a unanimous decision by whopping margins.

As a result of the third riot, a proposed title fight between lightweight champion Carlos Ortiz, a Puerto Rican-born New Yorker, and Laguna may not be held in New York or may be put off for some time. The fight had been considered a sure sellout.

A Garden source, who asked not to be identified, said, "We can't go with that or any main event with a Puerto Rican for some time after this one."

Tiger had dethroned the 3-1 favored Torres on a decisive and unanimous decision at the Garden last Dec. 16 before a crowd of 13,654 that paid $100,488. There were no disorders at that fight.

In the return bout, Torres, with an advantage in age, weight, height and reach, was favored again, this time by narrower 8-5 odds. It drew a crowd of 12,674 and $104,459, and grossed $60,000 more from national television.

Referee Harold Valan and judge Johnny Dran each voted for Tiger by 8-7 margins in rounds. Judge Joe Eppy had it 8-7 for Torres. The Associated Press also had it 8-7 for Torres.

A ringside poll showed an 8-7 edge for Torres with most of the writers having scores with similar razor-thin margins.

Torres had predicted a knockout victory. He went after his lighter — 173 pounds to 167 — and shorter rival from the opening bell and they fought a fierce battle for three rounds.

The iron-jawed Nigerian, getting in close and banging away with both hands to the body and head, dominated the next five rounds. Torres spurted in the ninth and 10th, lost the 11th and then started his drive in the 12th.

When the scores were announced there was a momentary lull. Then a bottle was heaved from the balcony and then the other missiles rained down as spectators put wooden chairs over their heads and scurried for cover.

City police and firemen were summoned to help the special police in the Garden. It took at least 15 minutes before the disorders were quelled.

"They were like animals," said Dick Esau, the head of the Garden's security force.

Deputy police inspector David Fallek, on duty in the balcony, said, "I broke up several fist fights. I grabbed one guy and about 20 others surrounded me. I had to let go. I was too near the edge."

Chance And Twins Slow Chisox, 1-0

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

George Toma is helping Catfish Hunter into a hole so Hunter can help the Kansas City Athletics out of one.

Toma, the Athletics' head groundskeeper, sees to it that Hunter has no trouble digging a hole in front of the pitching rubber to step into. The right-hander complained the dirt at Minnesota was like cement May 11 when he lost 8-0 to the Twins.

But Tuesday night in Kansas City, the dirt was just like dirt and Hunter dug in to bring his record to 4-3 with a three-hit, seven-strikeout, 4-0 victory over California. Three of his victories have been at home.

The triumph was the A's fifth straight since Hunter's "concrete" experience and moved them to within 4½ games of the American League-leading Chicago White Sox.

Third-place Kansas City now is 15-14—its best start since 1963 when the A's were 18-14 and in second place the morning of May 16. They finished eighth that year and didn't get any higher until last season when they struggled to seventh.

In other AL games Tuesday night, Dean Chance and Minnesota stopped the White Sox winning string at 10 with a 1-0 victory, the New York Yankees edged Cleveland 4-3 in 11 innings, Washington nipped Detroit 5-4 and Baltimore beat Boston 8-5.

It also was another Monday night for Kansas City. Rich Monday, the club's hottest hitter over the last 11 games, gave Hunter all the help he needed by doubling home the first two runs.

Chance, winning his sixth straight since losing his first start of the season, allowed just five singles and was backed by three double plays.

Chicago's Johnny Buzhardt also gave up only five hits, but two of them were successive doubles by Bob Allison and Zoilo Versalles for Minnesota's run in the second inning.

The Yankees, who tied the game with a pair of runs in the eighth, loaded the bases with none out is the 11th. Mickey Mantle then singled over the left fielder's head to end it.

Cleveland had taken a 3-1 lead in the fifth when, with two out, shortstop Dick Howser's throwing error let in two runs and Rocky Colavito's single brought in another.

Baltimore overcame a 5-4 Boston lead in the eighth when Paul Blair hit his first homer of the season, a three-run, pinch-hit blast. Frank Robinson hit a two-run homer for the Orioles, while Carl Yastrzemski belted a two-run shot and George Scott walloped a pair of triples for Boston.

Al Kaline hit a three-run homer in the Detroit first, but Washington came back to tie the score in its half of the inning, with Fred Valentine's two-run double the key hit.

The Senators took the lead with two runs in the third, with consecutive doubles by Jim King and Frank Howard producing one and Bernie Allen's sacrifice fly providing the other.

wooden folding chair over his head.

"In Nigeria, this wouldn't happen," said Tiger. "Boxing is sports. People pay money to see a fight, not to throw bottles. Win or lose they aren't concerned."

Most of the missiles thrown were whisky bottles and beer cans. The Garden serves beer and soda, and only in paper containers.

Almost lost in the shuffle was Roger Rouse, the No. 1 contender from Anaconda, Mont., who had been promised a title fight with the winner within 90 days.

"We'll try to make it for the Garden in September," said Harry Markson, director of boxing at the Garden. He declined to make a statement immediately on the riot except to say "it was shocking."

"It's up to my managers," said Tiger. "Whoever they want me to fight, I fight."

He admitted he was hurt "a little" in the 12th when Torres nailed him.

"I had him but I didn't follow up," moaned Torres, who still maintained he had won.

Torres said he may quit the ring "but I can't say now."

He had said before the fight he would quit if he lost.

Beaver Local Tops Lisbon On Cinders

Beaver Local's track forces won 11 events to run past Lisbon, 74-53, Tuesday afternoon on the Beaver Local cinders.

Coach Larry Knight's team was paced with double victories by Jim Webber who covered the high hurdles in 17.5 and the lows in 24 flat while Don Lyle won the high jump at 5 feet, 6 inches and the broad jump at 18 feet 6¾ inches.

Other firsts for the Beavers were compiled by Jim Nuzum who won the 100 in 11 seconds while Rich Stoll took the mile in 5:15 and Keith Steiner the two mile in 11:18.7 and Bill Taylor the 880 yard run in 2:16.

The pole vault went to Gary Neville at nine feet while Don Stoll put the shot 43 feet, 7 inches. The Beaver Local 880-yard relay team won in 1:41.8.

wooden folding chair over his head.

"In Nigeria, this wouldn't happen," said Tiger. "Boxing is sports. People pay money to see a fight, not to throw bottles. Win or lose they aren't concerned."

Most of the missiles thrown were whisky bottles and beer cans. The Garden serves beer and soda, and only in paper containers.

Almost lost in the shuffle was Roger Rouse, the No. 1 contender from Anaconda, Mont., who had been promised a title fight with the winner within 90 days.

"We'll try to make it for the Garden in September," said Harry Markson, director of boxing at the Garden. He declined to make a statement immediately on the riot except to say "it was shocking."

"It's up to my managers," said Tiger. "Whoever they want me to fight, I fight."

He admitted he was hurt "a little" in the 12th when Torres nailed him.

"I had him but I didn't follow up," moaned Torres, who still maintained he had won.

Torres said he may quit the ring "but I can't say now."

He had said before the fight he would quit if he lost.

Barbs Delight May Be Big Bargain Like Carry Back

By GEORGE BOWEN

BALTIMORE (AP) — It's horses like Barbs Delight which lead outsiders to look upon racing as a get-rich-quick game.

The runner-up in the Kentucky Derby was auctioned off for $2,000 in 1964. His three owners think so highly of him now that they are forking over $10,000 just to make him eligible to run Saturday in the Preakness at Pimlico.

In the family background of Barbs Delight is a striking parallel to another bargain horse named Carry Back. Their mothers passed into the hands of new owners because of unpaid room and board bills.

The mothers left a lot to be desired from an aristocratic breeding viewpoint. But Carry Back won the Kentucky Derby and Preakness and was the best 3-year-old of 1961.

His dam, Joppy, had never won a race. Her mother, grandmother, and great grandmother never even raced.

Jack A. Price had acquired Joppy for an unpaid board bill.

Joppy was one of four mares bred to Saggy in 1957 at the Country Life Farm, not far from Pimlico. The total price was $1,600 — or $400 each. The winning offspring was Carry Back produced by Joppy who died the same year her colt was being crowned best of his class.

Barbs Delight is out of a mare named Flora MacDonald. Shirley Payne, who is training horses at Pimlico, recalls how he once owned her.

Her original owner "owed me money for several bills and he asked me if we could call it even if he gave me the mare," said Payne. "I agreed."

Flora MacDonald won six times for Payne when a friend, Bobby Motch, offered to buy her.

"He wanted her as a broodmare," Payne continued. The sale was made for $1,500.

"Now, I'm kicking myself," he admits.

Motch bred Flora MacDonald to Bagdad and Barbs Delight was born in 1964 at a farm in nearby Baltimore County.

Motch died the same year and his horses were sold at an auction in Kentucky. The weanling later to be named Barbs Delight brought $2,000. His mother went for $1,600.

Guy Huguelet paid $5,000 for Barbs Delight at the Keeneland sales and quickly got his money back while keeping half a share. He sold quarters to Gene Spalding and Hal Steele Jr. The latter also is trainer.

Barbs Delight had earned $40,000 before picking up $25,000 for second in the Derby behind John Galbreath's Proud Clarion.

They are expected to be joined in their return match in the Preakness by half a dozen other 3-year-old colts, Damascus, Reason To Hail, Ask The Fare, In Reality, Favorable Turn and Great Power.

If all eight start, there will be $137,500 awaiting the winner at the end of the 1 3-16-mile race. Which is a high stakes for a $2,000 auction bargain.

Alex Hannum, Coach Of 76ers, Divorced

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Alex Hannum, who coached the Philadelphia 76ers to the National Basketball Association championship last month, has been divorced by his wife, Dorothy.

Hannum agreed Tuesday to pay his wife $425 monthly alimony, plus $225 a month for support of their children, Katherine, 19, and Susan, 17.

Mrs. Hannum said in her Superior Court suit to end their 24-year marriage that Hannum was cold and indifferent and away from home most of the time.

National Open Set June 15-18 At New Jersey

NEW YORK (AP) — A total of 2,768 golfers have entered the National Open Golf Championship, according to the U.S. Golf Association.

After qualifying rounds have reduced the field, the Open will be held June 15-18 at the Baltusrol Country Club in Springfield, N.J. The local 36-hole qualifying rounds will be held at 53 sites on May 22 and 23, with the sectional rounds scheduled for 14 centers on June 5 and 6.

Ben Hogan, whose game has lately shown signs of its once-legendary form, will be seeking an unprecedented fifth title. By finishing as one of the 15 low scorers in last year's Open, Hogan automatically qualifies for the tournament.

In all, 61 golfers are exempt from the qualifying rounds including the last five winners of the Open, PGA champ Al Geiberger and members of the Walker and Ryder Cup teams.

The defending champion is Billy Casper, who rallied from a seven-stroke deficit on the last nine holes last year to tie Arnold Palmer and then beat Palmer in a playoff.

Barbs Delight May Be Big Bargain Like Carry Back

By GEORGE BOWEN

BALTIMORE (AP) — It's horses like Barbs Delight which lead outsiders to look upon racing as a get-rich-quick game.

The runner-up in the Kentucky Derby was auctioned off for $2,000 in 1964. His three owners think so highly of him now that they are forking over $10,000 just to make him eligible to run Saturday in the Preakness at Pimlico.

In the family background of Barbs Delight is a striking parallel to another bargain horse named Carry Back. Their mothers passed into the hands of new owners because of unpaid room and board bills.

The mothers left a lot to be desired from an aristocratic breeding viewpoint. But Carry Back won the Kentucky Derby and Preakness and was the best 3-year-old of 1961.

His dam, Joppy, had never won a race. Her mother, grandmother, and great grandmother never even raced.

Jack A. Price had acquired Joppy for an unpaid board bill.

Joppy was one of four mares bred to Saggy in 1957 at the Country Life Farm, not far from Pimlico. The total price was $1,600 — or $400 each. The winning offspring was Carry Back produced by Joppy who died the same year her colt was being crowned best of his class.

Barbs Delight is out of a mare named Flora MacDonald. Shirley Payne, who is training horses at Pimlico, recalls how he once owned her.

Her original owner "owed me money for several bills and he asked me if we could call it even if he gave me the mare," said Payne. "I agreed."

Flora MacDonald won six times for Payne when a friend, Bobby Motch, offered to buy her.

"He wanted her as a broodmare," Payne continued. The sale was made for $1,500.

"Now, I'm kicking myself," he admits.

Motch bred Flora MacDonald to Bagdad and Barbs Delight was born in 1964 at a farm in nearby Baltimore County.

Motch died the same year and his horses were sold at an auction in Kentucky. The weanling later to be named Barbs Delight brought $2,000. His mother went for $1,600.

Guy Huguelet paid $5,000 for Barbs Delight at the Keeneland sales and quickly got his money back while keeping half a share. He sold quarters to Gene Spalding and Hal Steele Jr. The latter also is trainer.

Barbs Delight had earned $40,000 before picking up $25,000 for second in the Derby behind John Galbreath's Proud Clarion.

They are expected to be joined in their return match in the Preakness by half a dozen other 3-year-old colts, Damascus, Reason To Hail, Ask The Fare, In Reality, Favorable Turn and Great Power.

If all eight start, there will be $137,500 awaiting the winner at the end of the 1 3-16-mile race. Which is a high stakes for a $2,000 auction bargain.

National Open Set June 15-18 At New Jersey

NEW YORK (AP) — A total of 2,768 golfers have entered the National Open Golf Championship, according to the U.S. Golf Association.

After qualifying rounds have reduced the field, the Open will be held June 15-18 at the Baltusrol Country Club in Springfield, N.J. The local 36-hole qualifying rounds will be held at 53 sites on May 22 and 23, with the sectional rounds scheduled for 14 centers on June 5 and 6.

Ben Hogan, whose game has lately shown signs of its once-legendary form, will be seeking an unprecedented fifth title. By finishing as one of the 15 low scorers in last year's Open, Hogan automatically qualifies for the tournament.

In all, 61 golfers are exempt from the qualifying rounds including the last five winners of the Open, PGA champ Al Geiberger and members of the Walker and Ryder Cup teams.

The defending champion is Billy Casper, who rallied from a seven-stroke deficit on the last nine holes last year to tie Arnold Palmer and then beat Palmer in a playoff.

Merchants Association Re-Elects All Officers

James A. Locke, chairman, and all other officers of the East Liverpool Merchants Association have been re - elected for another term.

Charles B. Averell of the Schiff Shoe Store is vice president and Richard B. Sant of Robins and Sant treasurer.

The announcement of their re-election was made during a meeting of the association Tuesday at the Chamber of Commerce office. The election was conducted by mail in recent weeks.

—:—

A COMMITTEE presented a report on new, uniform store hours providing for two night openings a week.

The association considered the proposal for possible action late this summer or early fall. In the meantime, all members will be advised of the proposal.

The study has been under way several months and was based on a questionnaire sent the merchants last fall and on information from other sources.

The association agreed to distribute "Crime Alert" cards to all area residents. The small placard will carry the telephone number of the police department and urges citizens to notify headquarters immediately if they notice any suspicious activity.

The local police department has agreed to handle all calls and refer them to the proper agencies. If the calls come from without the jurisdiction of the local police, the call will be relayed to police in the tri-state area.

The placards will be prepared in the near future.

A report was heard on completion of the association's phase of the cleanup campaign. Anti-litter signs will be placed on trash receptacles in the downtown area.

—:—

LOCKE appointed a committee to consider an areawide ceramic festival next summer.

All organizations will be asked to cooperate. The committee includes Ralph Finley, Wayne Snyder, Joseph Coons, George Shaw and Ed Maloney.

Max Shoff presented detailed plans for the downtown "run-around" sale promotion Thursday through Saturday.

Harold Allison reported on arrangements for the annual spring outing of members June 14. The retailers will travel to Pittsburgh by chartered bus for dinner and a night baseball game at Forbes Field.

The June and July meetings have been canceled, with the next session Aug. 15. Plans for fall activities will be outlined.

The allergy seasons begin now. Pollen, smog and other irritants can cause sneezing, weeping eyes, itching, running nose and hoarseness. If you have these symptoms constantly, you would be wise to consult a physician. For allergic problems can develop into far more serious ailments.

Many allergy medicines have a tendency to lessen awakefulness and it may be dangerous for you to drive. Ask your physician about this, or we will be glad to tell you about the after-effects of any remedy you are taking.

YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a medicine. Pick up your prescription if shopping nearby, or we will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we compound yours?

QUESTION—"All our close friends are too old and frail to serve as pallbearers. What will we do for bearers?"

ANSWER—Experience has shown that most families have many more young friends than they anticipated. However, the matter of pallbearers is never a serious problem and one that we can always arrange for you. We always anticipate your needs and advise that you leave your problems to us.

Merchants Association Re-Elects All Officers

James A. Locke, chairman, and all other officers of the East Liverpool Merchants Association have been re - elected for another term.

Charles B. Averell of the Schiff Shoe Store is vice president and Richard B. Sant of Robins and Sant treasurer.

The announcement of their re-election was made during a meeting of the association Tuesday at the Chamber of Commerce office. The election was conducted by mail in recent weeks.

—:—

A COMMITTEE presented a report on new, uniform store hours providing for two night openings a week.

The association considered the proposal for possible action late this summer or early fall. In the meantime, all members will be advised of the proposal.

The study has been under way several months and was based on a questionnaire sent the merchants last fall and on information from other sources.

The association agreed to distribute "Crime Alert" cards to all area residents. The small placard will carry the telephone number of the police department and urges citizens to notify headquarters immediately if they notice any suspicious activity.

The local police department has agreed to handle all calls and refer them to the proper agencies. If the calls come from without the jurisdiction of the local police, the call will be relayed to police in the tri-state area.

The placards will be prepared in the near future.

A report was heard on completion of the association's phase of the cleanup campaign. Anti-litter signs will be placed on trash receptacles in the downtown area.

—:—

LOCKE appointed a committee to consider an areawide ceramic festival next summer.

All organizations will be asked to cooperate. The committee includes Ralph Finley, Wayne Snyder, Joseph Coons, George Shaw and Ed Maloney.

Max Shoff presented detailed plans for the downtown "run-around" sale promotion Thursday through Saturday.

Harold Allison reported on arrangements for the annual spring outing of members June 14. The retailers will travel to Pittsburgh by chartered bus for dinner and a night baseball game at Forbes Field.

The June and July meetings have been canceled, with the next session Aug. 15. Plans for fall activities will be outlined.

Moores To Be Name Of College Building

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Capital University announced Tuesday that a $2 million student union building to be dedicated Oct. 15 will be named in memory of Harry C. Moores, an industrialist- manufacturer-inventor in Columbus for nearly 50 years.

The announcement said Moores' daughter, Mrs. Jean Moores Frank of Dallas, Tex., is donating a $240,000 gift to launch the American Lutheran Church program called "Lutheran Ingathering for Education."

Wellsville Musicians Receive High Ratings

Three Wellsville junior high school band members received "1," or superior, ratings during district competition last week, Robert Westcott, band director, has announced.

They are Mark Thomas, clarinet; Eugene Taylor, saxophone, and Kenny Peterson, clarinet.

Receiving an "excellent" rating was Mary Caruso, clarinet. Susan Geer was awarded a "good" rating for her performance on the clarinet.

Woman Acquitted

WARREN, Ohio (AP) — A jury acquitted Mrs. Louise Green, 35, Tuesday of first-degree manslaughter in the March 15 stabbing death of Miss Gwendolyn Thompson, 24, of Warren. The defense had argued that Miss Thompson threatened Mrs. Green with a knife during the fatal argument at a house where the two were staying.

People In News

NEW YORK (AP) — Rome wasn't built in a day but perhaps it could have been with the "instant buildings" demonstrated here Tuesday by an Italian architect.

A 15-foot-high experimental igloo-shaped concrete building went up on the Columbia University campus in exactly 90 minutes.

Dante Bini, a 34-year-old Italian architect who developed the method in 1964, wants to license United States builders to apply it in constructing houses, apartments, schools and churches.

He has been putting his "Binishells," as he calls the domes, all over Italy the past two years.

How he build them was shown Tuesday to thousands of students at Columbia.

JERUSALEM, Israel (AP) — Hebrew author Samuel Yoseph Agnon, who received last year's Nobel Prize for literature, sharing it with author Nelly Sachs of Sweden, will leave Thursday on a month's visit to the United States.

BELGRADE (AP) — President Tito has named Vladimir Popovic, 53, his new secretary general, it was announced today.

Bogdan Crnobrnja, secretary general to the president until now, is taking another, undisclosed job.

Popovic has been serving as chairman of the Parliamentary Board for Foreign Affairs and International Relations. He also has been the Yugoslav ambassador to the Soviet Union, to the United States and China.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Lynda Bird Johnson, who frequently dates movie actor George Hamilton, is taking a fling at film-making herself.

The film, for the National Association for Crippled Children and Adults, will be used in the 1968 Easter Seal campaign.

Honoring Extension Service

Schriver To Be Speaker For Countywide Meeting

HENRY SCHRIVER
Will Speak On June 13.

Henry Schriver — Lorain County dairy farmer, father of 11, state representative and a humorous speaker with a rhyming delivery — will speak for a countywide gathering June 13 at Crestview High School marking the 50th year of the Cooperative Extension Service in Columbiana County.

Schriver was born on a farm near Belden, Ohio, attended a one-room school and eventually earned a B. S. degree in agriculture at Ohio State University. He is serving his first term in the legislature.

He will speak during the main program at 8:30 p. m. Floyd Lower of Lisbon, retired county extension agent, will present some "scenes of the past." Ed Kirby, associate director of the Ohio Extension Service, also will speak.

A chicken barbecue dinner will be served from 6 to 8. There will be informal activities—outdoor sports, group singing, a magic show, special talent, skits and displays of extension work through the past 50 years.

Joe D. Pittman, county extension agent, said former extension workers are being invited. Tickets may be obtained from 4-H club members, homemakers' councils and the extension office at 113 S. Market St., Lisbon.

Might Damage U.S.-Jap Relations

U.S. Refuses To Lift Ban On 1945 Bombing Films

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has suppressed for nearly 22 years confiscated Japanese films showing ghastly after-effects of the 1945 atomic bombing of Hiroshima, U.S. officials revealed today.

The Japanese government has asked at least twice that restrictions on the film be lifted, but the U.S. government has refused on grounds it might damage U.S.-Japanese relations, said the informants.

Called in Japan "The Film of Illusion" because it wasn't supposed to exist, the film was taken by Tokyo University scientists rushed to Hiroshima soon after the bombing, the sources said.

The officials, who declined identification, said the Japanese scientists still were at work filming in the devastated city when U.S. officials arrived in Hiroshima and confiscated the film.

But the American authorities determined to finish the documentary and used the same Japanese professional cameramen who had taken the initial footage.

For many years, officials said, U.S. policy flatly opposed any distribution of the documentary because it showed in stark and gruesome detail blast effects and the bomb's impact in a densely populated area.

But some authorities reportedly now favor letting Japan decide what if any restrictions should be imposed on the film's showing.

This appeared to leave the door open for reconsideration if Japan should renew its request for the documentary.

Hiroshima was the target of the first atomic bomb ever dropped on an enemy—on Aug. 6, 1945. The bomb obliterated three-fifths of the city of 343,000 population.

The U.S. government has estimated the bomb's death toll at between 70,000 and 80,000 people. It set the bomb's mortality rate per square mile at 15,000 people, with 32,000 wounded per square mile.

There was one report, not denied, that a total of 30,000 feet of film was taken by Nippon Eigasha movie company cameramen. Some 11,000 feet of this was taken under the original Japanese auspices and the remaining 19,000 feet—never displayed—was taken under U.S. auspices.

Several copies of the Hiroshima film exist, according to U.S. sources. One copy is in Japan but a hold has been placed over the portion filmed after U.S. scientists entered the project.

U.S. authorities have contended there also is a hold on the first 11,000 feet of the film. Something of a dispute arose with Japanese authorities over this issue and it still is regarded as sensitive, the sources said.

'Total Victory' Wanted By Most, Poll Indicates

NEW YORK (AP) — For the first time more people want "total victory" in Vietnam than want a supervised withdrawal by both sides, according to a sampling of public opinion by the Louis Harris Poll.

The public opinion poll published Tuesday also showed continued widespread support for the administration's conduct of the war and a growing conviction it will last a long time.

Those asking for a military victory totaled 45 per cent while 41 per cent of those polled asked for withdrawals under United Nations supervision. In February total victory was favored by 43 per cent and last November by 31 per cent.

The poll found 72 per cent of those queried supported President Johnson's policies, up 2 points since February, but 5 points lower than last November.

The belief that Vietnam will be a long war increased from 71 per cent in February to 81 per cent now, the poll said.

The number who feel the bombing of North Vietnam will help end the war dropped from 61 per cent in February to 55 per cent now. Twelve per cent said they thought the bombing was delaying an end to the war, up 4 points since February.

Pupils Make Trip

LISBON — Twenty-eight boys and girls in the fifth grade at New Waterford school made a field trip Tuesday to offices in the Courthouse, Lepper Library, where the county bookmobile begins and ends its daily rounds, and Tom Pike's Fort Tuscarora Museum near Guilford Lake. The youngsters were accompanied by their teacher, Mrs. Alice Hill, and three room mothers. They had a sack lunch at noon.

Ex-U.S. District Judge Dies At 81

CINCINNATI (AP)—John H. Druffel, who spent 27 years as U.S. district judge for the Southern District of Ohio, is dead at 81.

Judge Druffel, an authority on patent law who retired from the bench in 1964, died Tuesday. He had been appointed district judge in 1937 by President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

The judge started out as a secretary in the office of a Democratic Hamilton County prosecutor. He also served in city government—helping organize the Charter Party in the 1920s — and was a common pleas judge when named to the federal court.

In his youth, he learned two trades—stenographer and lathe operator—that he found useful as a judge. He often took his own notes on testimony and claimed his experience in mechanical work helped him in patent cases.

Lisbon Rotarians Help Clean Pool

LISBON — The Rotary Club held a work detail at the community swimming pool Tuesday evening following dinner at the Daughters of America hall.

Jack Pozenel, president, said 16 members cleaned the grounds, moved benches and brushed and cleaned the inside of the pool to prepare it for painting.

Rotarians have invited the top 10 students at David Anderson High School to be their dinner guests next Tuesday evening at the Wick Hotel.

Gary Pike, high school guidance counselor, will introduce the students. Lorin Ruff, elementary consultant for the Columbiana County school system, will speak.

Lobby Asks End Of State Monopoly

House Hearing Opened On Compensation Issue

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The insurance lobby began parading witnesses before the Ohio House Insurance and Financial Institutions Committee Tuesday night as hearings opened on one of the most controversial issues of the legislative session.

They called for passage of a bill that would end the state's 55-year-old monopoly on workmen's compensation insurance and give private firms a chance at some of the $100 million a year business.

About 200 persons crowded into the room as Chairman Robert E. Netzley R-7 Miami called for proponents' testimony. He said opponents, who will include the Ohio AFL—CIO, will be heard later.

Generally, representatives of insurance firms and associations contended private insurers would be able to settle claims more promptly and offer statistical and other services which eventually would reduce accidents and reduce cost to employers and employes.

W. S. McCormick, representing the Workmen's Compensation Committee of the American Insurance Association, told the committee Ohio is one of the slowest states in the nation in settling claims with an average of 55.4 days for the first payment for a claim.

By contrast, McCormick said New York begins paying 87 per cent of all its claims in 18 days, Wisconsin 65 per cent in 15 days, and Michigan 75 per cent within three weeks.

McCormick, also an official of the Aetna companies, defended the right of companies to earn a "moderate" profit in the workmen's compensation business but said the past three years his own company averaged 1-1½ per cent profit in two and lost about the same the third year.

But the industry spokesman conceded under questioning by Rep. W. R. Cadwallader R-66 Cincinnati that premiums on workmen's compensation just as auto liability premiums, are earmarked in part for reserves.

James L. Marshall, past president and board member of the Ohio Pharmaceutical Association appearing as an individual, deplored slow payment of claims by the state.

Marshall, of Springfield, said he had experienced delays of "four, six, and eight" months before state acknowledgement of medical bills and then had to wait several more months before being paid—or notified without explanation that the person for whom the bill was due was not eligible.

Tariff Cutting Benefits Seen In 6 To 10 Weeks

WASHINGTON (AP)—It will be six to 10 weeks before consumers, businessmen and farmers learn what benefits—or as some industries suspect, what drawbacks—will result from the Kennedy Round of tariff cutting at Geneva.

The detailed, item-by-item new schedule of tariffs on some 6,300 farm and industrial items probably will not be completed until just before June 30, the deadline for President Johnson's signing of the trade agreement.

By then the schedules will be available here for inspection in some form or other, said Leonard U. Wilson, special assistant to William M. Roth, chief U.S. negotiator.

"But it may be another 18 to 30 days later before the usual detailed analysis and documentation can be duplicated and made available generally," Wilson added. "That's our best guess now."

Even the industries which criticized the Geneva outcome—including the Manufacturing Chemists Association in Washington and the American Iron and Steel Institute, New York—noted their comments were based on incomplete knowledge.

The White House counseled patience. President Johnson said Tuesday that "much hard work remains to be done" in putting general understandings into concrete form.

His statement added: "The final details must await the completion of this work—and final approval given by governments."

Compilation of the new tariff schedule has been in process for weeks. Each tariff must be checked by all 53 governments involved in the talks.

About 60 employes of the U.S. Tariff Commission now are in Europe checking the figures, Wilson said. Meantime, no one in this country can answer questions on any of the newly negotiated proposed duties.

The June 30 deadline for signing of the agreement by the 53 countries is the expiration date of Johnson's powers under the Trade Agreement Act of 1962 to cut American tariffs up to 50 per cent on nearly all items on the U.S. tariff list.

The Kennedy Round got its name because President John F. Kennedy sought U.S. participation in the tariff talks.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., told the Senate Tuesday the U.S. negotiations had scored a magnificent achievement. The mutual lowering of trade barriers, he said, will bolster the economy importantly.

But John P. Roche, president of the American Iron and Steel Institute, issued a statement predicting the Geneva agreement will "substantially reduce the existing wholly inadequate tariffs" which he said have helped cause an inflow of foreign steel items.

King Charts Program For Cleveland Negroes

CLEVELAND (AP) — Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. outlined "Operation Breadbasket" for Cleveland Negroes Tuesday and said "we're not begging for freedom anymore."

King said at a news conference that he would be in the city every other weekend starting June 1 to consult with community leaders and "give overall direction to our civil rights efforts."

City officials declined comment on King's announcement.

The work by King's Southern Christian Leadership Conference will supplement that done by the United Pastors Association, a group organized after riots in the predominantly East Side Negro Hough area last summer.

King's program for Cleveland includes:

—Develop the political power of the Negro community in support of candidates that will represent its needs.

— Organize the Negro's buying power.

— Organize tenants into collective bargaining units.

— Work in the area of open occupancy.

— Develop a bank in Cleveland's Negro community.

"Our work here will begin slowly," King said, "Uniting and building a common understanding of the Negroes' problems among all classes and segments of the community."

King said from the process of training and organization "appropriate patterns of creative nonviolent action and other positive programs will emerge."

King said he found Cleveland "a teeming cauldron of hostility. The citizens of the Negro community reflect the alienation of the total community which has constantly ignored their cries for justice and opportunity . . . "

In relation to the plan for organizing tenants, a staff lawyer for the Legal Aid Society said tenant unions would be organized in the Hough area starting June 1.

House Hearing Opened On Compensation Issue

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The insurance lobby began parading witnesses before the Ohio House Insurance and Financial Institutions Committee Tuesday night as hearings opened on one of the most controversial issues of the legislative session.

Newspaperman To Talk For Dinner Of Chamber

Melvin E. Tharp, advertising director of The Columbus Dispatch and Citizen - Journal, will speak at the annual spring membership dinner meeting of the East Liverpool Area Chamber of Commerce Wednesday, May 24, at the Inn-Town Motel.

Tharp's topic will be "Getting Ready for Tomorrow." His address will follow a 6:30 dinner. The Chamber reminded its members reservations for the event are due by Sunday.

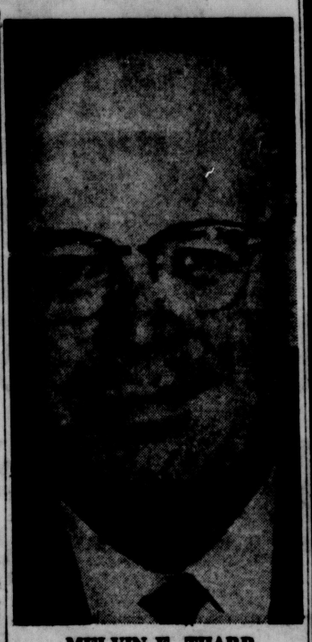
Tharp became associated with The Dispatch in 1938 shortly after he was graduated from the School of Journalism at Ohio State University. He started work as assistant promotion manager.

Early in 1955, he was named assistant to the advertising director and in July of the same year was appointed advertising director.

During World War II, he served with the Office of Strategic Services, engaged in secret assignments in the United States and China. In 1950, he was recalled to Army duty for the Korean Conflict and served approximately two years as a captain in the Army Security Agency.

Tharp is a past president of the Columbus Advertising Club and the Columbus Area Chamber of Commerce. He also has served as vice president of the Advertising Federation of America and president of the Columbus Sales Executives Club and the International Newspaper Advertising Executives.

Married, he has a son, 16, and a daughter, 20.



MELVIN E. THARP
He's Columbus Executive.

Cure Left In Johnson's Hands

Merger Failure Weakens Department Of Commerc

WASHINGTON (AP) — Administration failure to win approval for a proposed merger with the Labor Department has left the Commerce Department in a weakened condition that only President Johnson can cure.

The Commerce Department now is operating with four of its top executives, including the secretary, in acting roles only.

Sources close to the department said today they have heard nothing about the possible appointment of a permanent secretary, or whether Alexander B. Trowbridge, the acting secretary, will get the job.

Department employes reportedly are a bit uneasy because of the uncertainty.

Johnson has given no indications what his course will be and there has been little, if any, speculation in the matter. One out-of-government source theorized, however, that the longer Johnson waits the better the chances for Trowbridge, 37, to be named secretary.

He has been acting secretary since Feb. 1 after the resignation of John T. Connor, now president of Allied Chemical Co. The pattern which emerged in the Justice Department twice in recent years appears to be emerging at Commerce.

Nicholas Katzenbach became acting attorney general Sept. 3, 1964, when Robert F. Kennedy resigned to accept the Democratic nomination for the U.S. Senate from New York.

Katzenbach was sworn in as attorney general almost six months later, on Feb. 13, 1965.

When Katzenbach was appointed undersecretary of state last Oct. 3, Ramsey Clark was named acting attorney general, a post he held for five months before being sworn in as attorney general.

Trowbridge has been in an acting status for 3½ months. Part of that time the administration was working toward merging the Commerce and Labor departments with related agencies.

But earlier this spring, the administration decided, reportedly because of intense labor opposition, against seeking the merger, and the plan was referred to the Labor-Management Advisory Committee.

That panel this month reportedly told the President it saw little point in studying the question and cited opposition within the committee. Labor was especially strong against it. The business members were reportedly unenthusiastic.

Connor, who recommended the merger before resigning, said recently it is unlikely Congress will be asked to consider a merger plan this year or next year.

To Guard Against Errors

Pentagon Ousts 10,000 Unreliables From A-Jobs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Under a strict, almost puritanical program to guard against human nuclear control errors, the Pentagon has removed since 1962 more than 10,000 persons classed as unreliable from jobs involving atomic weapons.

The Air Force, with thousands of men assigned to Strategic Air Command bombers, Minuteman missile silos and the vast defense complex for keeping them ready, has reassigned more than 9,500 men.

The fledgling Defense Atomic Support Agency, created in 1959 to help lay out the services' nuclear warfare needs, has removed more than 200 from hypersensitive posts.

These figures were provided by the Pentagon in response to questions prompted by a Soviet general's observation that Soviet troops show signs of increased tension and confusion around nuclear arms.

To a certain extent U.S. servicemen and defense civilians are afflicted with similar stresses.

Even the Army and Navy, not nearly so immersed as the Air Force in the business of thermonuclear war, have reassigned 300 men classed as unreliable in dealing with strategic bombs and missiles.

According to a count provided to The Associated Press, the Air Force has 26,500 officers and 85,000 enlisted men in nuclear-type positions requiring human reliability clearance.

The Defense Atomic Support Agency has about 2,100 dealing with atomic arms. Sources say the Army and Navy have about 40,000 jobs associated with guarding, moving, handling, loading or delivery of atomic weapons.

With great numbers of potential fingers on the trigger, the Pentagon in 1962 launched a human reliability program to cull out "individuals who display indications of excessive worry, anxiety or apprehensions" concerning their jobs.

Although U.S. intercontinental ballistic missile strength is peaking out at a planned 1,000 land-based and 656 submarine-borne missiles, the whole area of human reliability may receive new scrutiny with possible deployment of antimissiles.

If the United States decides to deploy its Nike X system of thermonuclear-tipped interceptor missiles, there will be a whole new network of missile batteries requiring hundreds of top security personnel to man and support them.

Practically all the 10,000-plus individuals removed from nuclear slots between 1962 and 1966 have been reassigned to other jobs. Some may have been forced out of the service, although the Pentagon will give no numbers nor say how many punitive actions may have been taken.

Basic reasons for the removals, the Pentagon says, include adverse actions on duty, reprimands or admonishments, excessive drinking, negligence, scrapes with the law, heavy indebtedness, marital problems and poor attitude or lack of motivation toward duty with nuclear weapons.

Ohio's High Court Slates 2 Executions

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Supreme Court today scheduled two executions in Ohio Penitentiary on consecutive days next month.

The death date for Eugene W. Duling, slayer of a Columbus policeman, was set for June 6. John C. McCellan, who fatally stabbed a Toledo youth, was scheduled for June 7.

They will be the first executions in the prison's electric chair since March 15, 1963.

The state court acted after the U.S. Supreme Court rejected appeals in both cases.

Duling received the death sentence for the 1964 shooting of Columbus Police Lt. Alan Fraley during investigation of a disturbance in a near downtown apartment.

McClellan was convicted of stabbing Raymond Espinosa, 17, fatally during an argument in an apartment in Toledo, Dec. 15, 1964.

Espinosa's body was found the following day in Monroe County, Mich., by a highway patrolman of that state.

In another action, The Supreme Court agreed to review the conviction of a threatening letter writer in lower courts of Hamilton County.

Richard (Rickey) Kiser was arrested Nov. 30, 1965, on complaint of Mrs. Margaret Hess, Camp Dennison, after her daughter-in-law, Anna, 17, said she received a letter threatening her husband, Leslie Hess.

Records showed that Anna knew Kiser without going into details in the appeal to the high court.

Peking Leaders View War With U.S. Inevitable

CHICAGO (AP) — Leaders of Red China view the United States as traveling a path which will lead inevitably to war with their country, reporter Simon Malley says in the Chicago Daily News.

Malley, U.N. correspondent for the French language Jeune Afrique and other African newspapers, based his observations on exclusive interviews he said he had with Premier Chou En-lai in Peking.

Tuesday's story in the News was one of a series resulting from Malley's 19-day stay in China during March and April.

China has denied that Malley interviewed Chou, and has called the journalist's report a "fabrication."

Malley stuck by his assertion, and the News said it is "satisfied that Malley's report is authentic and accurate."

His report related that Chou is convinced that the United States and China will go to war.

"Sooner or later," the Chinese leader is quoted as saying, "the United States will find itself in a situation where the realization of its imperialistic objectives will require the violation of our sovereignty and territorial integrity. And that day a military showdown will have become inevitable."

Edward Hopper, Famed Painter, Dies At Age 84

NEW YORK (AP) — Edward Hopper, whose brooding, shadowed canvases of American life brought him a place among the century's master painters, died Monday in his Greenwich Village studio. He was 84.

The painter's wife, who announced his death Tuesday night, said he had been ill in recent weeks. She indicated he would be buried near his birthplace in Nyack, N.Y.

Hopper, a raw-boned man of 6 feet 5 inches with a steady, contemplative look, was called a master of light. He projected the emptiness of a big city street or the silence of grass and dunes with a not quite definable sense of mystery.

His realistic paintings showed a vision of America—gas stations, run-down Victorian houses, storefronts, an all-night cafe—that critics saw as a bridge from the beginning of the century to the current pop art explosion.

Hopper described his own aim in painting as "the most exact transcription possible of my most intimate impressions of nature."

Man To Munch On Astronaut Food During World Flight

CLEVELAND (AP)—The man who plans to fly non - stop around the world will munch on astronauts' food and have the advice of an Air Force officer whose father helped design the historic Spirit of St. Louis.

James R. Bede said Tuesday he expects to take off in the next two to six weeks in his droopy-winged, single-engine experimental airplane. He figures to make the 24,800-mile trip in 6½ days on $236 worth of gasoline.

Bede said the National Aeronautics and Space Adminstration will provide him with food used by Gemini astronauts. Doctors at Ohio State University's aerospace laboratory have prescribed his diet.

The flight plan was developed by Capt. Richard Cullen, who volunteered his services. Capt. Cullen's father helped construct the Spirit of St. Louis, which carried Charles A. Lindbergh across the Atlantic Ocean 40 years ago Saturday.

"I've had lots of flying time in jet fighters over the Atlantic and Pacific," Cullen said. "Then I read about this fellow who planned to fly over both, plus the Indian Ocean, in one continuous trip."

"I met him and decided I had to be part of the project," Cullen added. The two met at Javelin Aircraft in Wichita, Kan., where Bede's modified airplane was converted into a long-distance aircraft.

Bede said he would take off from Cleveland if conditions are right. If not, he'll switch to Columbus to start the world - record attempt.

A U. S. Air Force B52 set the present record for straight-line, sub-orbital flight with a 12,532-mile trip from Okinawa to Madrid in 1962.

Negotiators Fail To Gain Accord In Phone Strike

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Negotiators for Bell Telephone Co. of Pennsylvania and the Federation of Telephone Workers of Pennsylvania talked for eight hours before adjourning Tuesday with no solution to a walkout of 11,000 installers and repairmen.

More talks were planned today.

The walk out started in Bucks County Monday over the suspension of an employe for five and a half hours for disciplinary reasons after he was involved in a traffic mishap. The walkout spread to four other counties by Monday afternoon and by Tuesday was statewide.

Bell said telephone service was not affected by the strike.

W. W. Kinkel, the company's assistant vice president for labor relations, said the union was demanding the company "overlook an outright violation of a safe driving procedure" by revoking the suspenson.

Peking Leaders View War With U.S. Inevitable

CHICAGO (AP) — Leaders of Red China view the United States as traveling a path which will lead inevitably to war with their country, reporter Simon Malley says in the Chicago Daily News.

Malley, U.N. correspondent for the French language Jeune Afrique and other African newspapers, based his observations on exclusive interviews he said he had with Premier Chou En-lai in Peking.

China has denied that Malley interviewed Chou, and has called the journalist's report a "fabrication."

Malley stuck by his assertion, and the News said it is "satisfied that Malley's report is authentic and accurate."

His report related that Chou is convinced that the United States and China will go to war.

"Sooner or later," the Chinese leader is quoted as saying, "the United States will find itself in a situation where the realization of its imperialistic objectives will require the violation of our sovereignty and territorial integrity. And that day a military showdown will have become inevitable."

Edward Hopper, Famed Painter, Dies At Age 84

NEW YORK (AP) — Edward Hopper, whose brooding, shadowed canvases of American life brought him a place among the century's master painters, died Monday in his Greenwich Village studio. He was 84.

The painter's wife, who announced his death Tuesday night, said he had been ill in recent weeks. She indicated he would be buried near his birthplace in Nyack, N.Y.

Hopper, a raw-boned man of 6 feet 5 inches with a steady, contemplative look, was called a master of light. He projected the emptiness of a big city street or the silence of grass and dunes with a not quite definable sense of mystery.

His realistic paintings showed a vision of America—gas stations, run-down Victorian houses, storefronts, an all-night cafe—that critics saw as a bridge from the beginning of the century to the current pop art explosion.

Hopper described his own aim in painting as "the most exact transcription possible of my most intimate impressions of nature."

Man To Munch On Astronaut Food During World Flight
